HIGH WATERS, SNOW, STORMS TAKE SIX LIVES

U. S. MIDWEST AND CANADA STORM CENTERS

10,000 ACRES VALUABLE FARM
LAND IN IOWA THREATENED
BY OVERFLOW

MISSISSIPPI MAY SOON BE OUT OF BOUNDS AT QUINCY, ILL.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(UP)—High waters, snow and rain storms have taken a toll of six lives in the mid-west United States and western Canada in the past 24 hours.

Two persons were killed near Humboldt, Neb., when their motor car overturned into a water-filled ditch. Four were killed in the snow and hail storm in western Canada.

Near Beardstown, Ill., where the Illinois river is above flood stage, many residents are moving from their homes. Crops near Burlington, Ia., are imperiled through the high waters of Skunk Creek. A wide crevice has been opened in the dike protecting the lowlands.

The overflow from Skunk Creek threatens 10,000 acres of valuable farm land, it was estimated today. Residents of the lowlands are reported as moving out.

Convicts from the state penitentiary fought to save a levee all night. They were aided by farmers, but it was feared the efforts would be futile.

The Mississippi river also is reported as high near Quincy, Ill.

E. Willis and three members of his family, living in the Rama district of Saskatchewan, were killed when a storm destroyed their farmhouse. Snows were reported over a considerable portion of the province and some crop damage is probable.

The two persons killed in Nebraska were Hallic Powers and Clyde Smith, both of Falls City. Schuler was dangerously injured at the time the other two were killed.

4 DEATHS, DAMAGED CROPS IN CANADA

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 17.—A toll of four deaths and damage to ungarnered crops, the extent to which will not be determined for some time, were left in the wake of snow, rain and hail storms which have swept western Canada during the past 48 hours.

E. Willis, a farmer in the Rama district of Saskatchewan, 25 miles west of Canora, his wife and two children were killed early yesterday, when a lightning bolt struck their home during the height of one of the worst electrical storms experienced in that district.

The farm house was in a mass of flames when neighbors reached the scene. They were unable to check the fire and the frail dwelling burned to the ground. The bodies of the four victims, charred almost beyond recognition, were later recovered from the ruins.

Three thousand harvesters are stranded in Calgary, Alberta, as the result of snow storms which have caused a suspension of harvesting in that province. Winter conditions still prevail around Edmonton, Alberta, and winter covers have appeared on automobiles. The ground is covered by a deep mantle of snow.

ADVERSE WEATHER DELAYS NEW YORK TO PARIS FLIGHT

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Adverse weather piled up today on yesterday's mechanical difficulty, delaying flight of the giant Sikorsky biplane New York-Paris.

Lieutenant F. W. Reichelderfer, aerologist of the naval bureau of aeronautics, notified Lieutenant L. W. Curtin, U. S. N., who is to be navigator of the attempt to fly from here to Paris without stopping, that three tropical storms are moving toward the north Atlantic region which must be traversed on the flight.

It will be at least Sunday, probably Monday or Tuesday, before conditions change, the aerologist said.

Mrs. Schafer admitted that she had a faint suspicion that her husband was deceiving her, but said she failed in her attempts to catch him in his duplicity.

MURDER OF AMERICAN IS ATROCIOUS ONE

WAS KIDNAPED

AMERICAN COLONY IN MEXICO
CITY ASKS INVESTIGATION

Mexico City, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The murder of Jacob Rosenthal, 62, retired merchant of Woodmere, N. Y., by bandits, has aroused the American colony here. Rosenthal's body was found only three miles from where he was kidnaped and American troops failed to rescue him on their search expeditions.

Three suspects have been identified by Joseph Huff, son-in-law of Rosenthal, as being members of the bandit gang and are being brought to trial here. Two of the bandits were shot and killed by the police who recovered the wealthy American's body.

Ruff is in a serious condition in a hospital, having collapsed upon being informed of the fate of his father-in-law.

Rosenthal was killed by bandits, who kidnaped him Sunday from a party of relatives with whom he was returning here from Cuernavaca, a resort city, when they realized that police, pretending to be paying $10,000 ransom, had tricked them.

Two policemen carrying a bag, presumably holding the money, but in reality loaded with iron bars, met the bandits at a designated spot in the hills near Cuernavaca. Instead of handing over the bag, the police opened fire. Two of the bandits were killed. The others hiding nearby plunged their knives into the American's body, beat him over the head with their rifles and fled. Last word from Rosenthal was received Wednesday morning in a note to Ruff, which the bandits permitted to reach its destination. Rosenthal wrote:

"I am two miles east of the place where we ate Sunday on the way from Cuernavaca to Mexico City. The bandits want 20,000 pesos. Hurry up. Love. From Jacob Rosenthal."

The ransom demanded was scribbled in Spanish beneath.

CHEAP HAULAGE AT EXPENSE OF CHEAP SERVICE

SUCH METHOD NOT DESIRABLE,
SAYS GREAT NORTHERN
RAIL MAN

VICE PRESIDENT GEORGE R.

Forman, N. D., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Cheap transportation obtained at the expense of good service would not be desirable, George R. Martin, vice president of the Great Northern railroad, asserted today in an address at the Sargent county fair.

Declaring that during the past three years "transportation service in the northwest has been practically perfect," Martin said that a substantial reduction in rates on farm products would not mean a great deal in dollars and cents to the individual producer, but would amount to the railroad companies a loss of revenue which would tend to cripple the service to the detriment of every user of the railroad.

"Every blow aimed at the railroad," said Martin, "every act of the legislature imposing needless regulations or burdens of expenses upon the railroad, damages other business and agriculture as surely as it aimed directly at them."

Diversification — "the production on the farm of all of those things that the particular soil, climate, etc., are capable of producing," was stressed as the solution of the farmer's problem and a means of reducing farm sizes and thereby increasing the population.

"This includes in proper proportion, sweet clover, potatoes, sugar beets, vegetables for canning factories, poultry and a hundred other things that may be produced on a well balanced farm."

"This," continued the speaker, "seems to be in a great measure the solution of the farmer's problems, which are, after all, economic and not legislative ones."

Despite an impression that freight rates are high, the railroad official said that compared with other things which the farmer has to buy, the increase in the cost of transportation since the normal prewar period has been much less.

The railroads, the speaker said, are not guaranteed earnings of 5 3-4 per cent under the transportation act.

"The railroads of the country generally and of the northwest particularly have at no time since March, 1920, earned a return equal to 5 3-4 per cent of the value of their property used for transportation and neither the government nor any other source made up the deficit."

DARING BANDIT ROBS JEWELER OF $660,000 DIAMONDS

By E. W. LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 17.—The relations of Harry M. Daugherty and the late Jesse Smith formed the subject of testimony at the opening of today's session of the Daugherty-Miller trial.

Charles E. Steward, who since 1914, has survived all change of administration and served continuously as an assistant attorney general, testified that he first met Smith on the day of the Warren G. Harding inauguration as president.

"I assigned him to an office on the sixth floor of the department of justice building. It was near Mr. Daugherty's office."

"Smith's office was assigned for 'confidential duties of the attorney general.'"

New York, Sept. 17.—Louis J. Bailey, in 1921-1922 chief of the department of justice bureau of investigation, testified in the Harry M. Daugherty-Thomas W. Miller conspiracy trial today that Jesse Smith, friend of Daugherty, was accustomed to give pointed suggestions and orders to him.

He described Smith as "a nervous sort of man who was all over the place" and added that once when he had gone to see Daugherty personally, the attorney general told him: "Now I am very busy. You take up such matters with Col. Smith. He will tell you what to do. We room together."

FATHER AND TWO SONS NOW SIT IN JAIL

ARRESTED ON CHARGES IN CON-
NECTION WITH BANK

THREE VOOGDS SEEK RELEASE
ON BAIL BY AUSTIN
JUDGE

Austin, Minn., Sept. 17.—(UP)—A father and two sons, who are in jail here on charges in connection with the failure of the Dexter State Bank, were to seek release on bail today when Judge Norman E. Peterson of Albert Lea fixes the amount of their bond.

The three arrested are:

John G. Voogd, Jr., charged with the same offense as his father.

William Voogd, charged with loaning himself money as a director of the bank in excess of the amount allowed by law.

As the result of a citizens' investigation after the bank was closed April 27, the brothers were taken into custody Thursday afternoon and arraigned in justice court. They were given a preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court.

When the father returned Thursday evening from a vacation in Iowa, he, too, was taken into custody.

John, Jr., was cashier of the bank when it closed and William formerly was cashier. William, it is alleged, loaned himself $1,750 of the institution's money.

CONSPIRACY TO OBSTRUCT JUSTICE NOW CHARGED

WARRANTS FOR THE ARREST OF
AIMEE SEMPLE Mc-
PHERSON

ALSO OF FOUR OTHER PEOPLE
CLAIMED TO BE IN-
VOLVED

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Warrants for the arrest of Aimee Semple McPherson and four others on three counts of an alleged conspiracy to obstruct justice were issued at the district attorney's office today.

The warrants signed by District Attorney Asa Keyes, charged perjury and preparation of false evidence and were the climax of a long investigation of the evangelist's story of kidnapping and imprisonment which caused a nation wide sensation.

Others named in the warrants were Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple; Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother; Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman and "John Doe" Martin.

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—Arrest of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, famous evangelist, her mother and three other principals in the investigation of her kidnapping story was expected today.

Warrants charging five persons with perjury in affidavits and in testimony before the grand jury, which investigated the alleged abduction, have been prepared by District Attorney Asa Keyes.

Keyes said the papers would not be served until completion of an investigation in which he expects to prove Mrs. McPherson's account of abduction into the Mexican desert last May was "a grand hoax." The investigation, however, would be only a matter of hours, Keyes said.

Those named in the warrants besides the religious leader, were her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sellaiff, Kenneth G. Ormiston and "John Doe" Martin, an attorney.

"I will remain behind jail bars and my preaching will be carried out by disciples," Mrs. McPherson said, when she will be arrested. She said she will not attempt to secure freedom on bond.

"Like John Bunyan, who wrote 'Pilgrims Progress' while in jail, I will carry on behind the bars," she added.

Keyes said that Mrs. McPherson conspired with Mrs. Sellaiff, Martin and Mrs. Kennedy to secure evidence in support of the kidnapping story. Keyes believes that during the time she was supposed to be a captive she was in Carmel by the Sea, near here, at a "love nest" with Ormiston, who formerly was radio operator at Angelus Temple, the seat of Mrs. McPherson's cult.

Issuance of the warrants was the first official attack on the evangelist since her disappearance.

Ormiston's attorney informed Keyes he will surrender Ormiston. It was believed the arrests were being delayed by Keyes until he had questioned Ormiston.

A prison term of 1 to 14 years is the penalty upon conviction of the perjury charge.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS BIG WINTER ACTIVITIES

JUNIORS BEGIN GYMNASIUM
WORK ON SEPTEMBER 27

COMBINED FINANCIAL AND MEM-
BERSHIP APPEAL LAUNCHED
TUESDAY

The program of activities for the winter work of the Y. M. C. A. is being drawn up, and will include many features of interest to boys and men. The chief athletic interest will center around the basketball work for all ages.

A league of three-men basketball teams, to include a forward, center, and guard on each team, is being planned to start the grind about the first of November. This league will give the cage men a chance to get in trim for the real season, which will open about the middle of December.

Junior gym classes will start on Monday, Sept. 27, with the juniors divided into age groups. Those 14, and 15 years old will work out on Mondays and Thursdays, the 11, 12, and 13 years old boys on Tuesday and Fridays, and the younger boys, 8, 9, and 10 years of age, will have Wednesday evenings. Basketball leagues and other athletic activities will be planned for each group.

It is hoped to schedule a regular class for older men, business men, and others who wish to keep in trim throughout the winter by one or two periods in the gym.

The club work is well under way, with the Hi-Y club already having an initial meeting to plan the year's activities. Mark Paterson is president, and he has his committee heads chosen, and a number of high school boys are ready to join with the old members. One of the chief matters of work for this club this year is the older boys' conference which comes to Brainerd on Nov. 12 for a three day session.

The financial and membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. for the year's budget is planned for next week, starting on Monday evening with a dinner for the workers. The real campaign will start on Tuesday. Some preliminary canvassing has been conducted already, with a cordial response on the part of those called on.

R. C. Coffin, state secretary, is expected in the city on Monday, and will assist in the set-up, and Lester Howard, another of the state staff, expects to come through here on Wednesday, to spend a day.

CLAIM U. S. PUT PRESSURE ON LITTLE CUBA

London, Sept. 17.—(UP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Geneva today said the United States had applied pressure to Cuba to prevent the latter country from being a candidate for the League of Nations council during yesterday's election.

Cuba renounced her candidacy several days before the election although it had been expected that she would be elected easily.

DENIAL BY STATE DEPARTMENT

Washington, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The state department today denied reports that the United States had exerted pressure on Cuba, causing the latter to withdraw its candidacy for a League of Nations council seat. It was said this government had no connection with Cuba's league activities.

Diversification — "the production on the farm of all of those things that the particular soil, climate, etc., are capable of producing," was stressed as the solution of the farmer's problem and a means of reducing farm sizes and thereby increasing the population.

"This includes in proper proportion, sweet clover, potatoes, sugar beets, vegetables for canning factories, poultry and a hundred other things that may be produced on a well balanced farm."

"This," continued the speaker, "seems to be in a great measure the solution of the farmer's problems, which are, after all, economic and not legislative ones."

Despite an impression that freight rates are high, the railroad official said that compared with other things which the farmer has to buy, the increase in the cost of transportation since the normal prewar period has been much less.

"The railroads of the country generally and of the northwest particularly have at no time since March, 1920, earned a return equal to 5 3-4 per cent of the value of their property used for transportation and neither the government nor any other source made up the deficit."

DARING BANDIT ROBS JEWELER OF $650,000 DIAMONDS

Chicago, Sept. 17.—(UP)—As hundreds of passengers streamed into a crowded railroad station here today, a bandit stepped from the throng on to the running board of an automobile driven by Gustaf Englesmann, New York jeweler, and robbed him of $650,000 in diamonds and unmounted jewels.

Following the holdup the bandits ran to a waiting automobile and was driven away before Englesmann could give an alarm.

RELATIONS OF DAUGHERTY AND JESSE SMITH

FORM SUBJECT OF TESTIMONY
AT DAUGHERTY-MILLER
TRIAL

CHARLES E. STEWARD TELLS WHEN HE FIRST MET
SMITH

By E. W. LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 17.—The relations of Harry M. Daugherty and the late Jesse Smith formed the subject of testimony at the opening of today's session of the Daugherty-Miller trial.

Charles E. Steward, who since 1914, has survived all change of administration and served continuously as an assistant attorney general, testified that he first met Smith on the day of the Warren G. Harding inauguration as president.

"I assigned him to an office on the sixth floor of the department of justice building. It was near Mr. Daugherty's office."

"Smith's office was assigned for 'confidential duties of the attorney general.'"

New York, Sept. 17.—Louis J. Bailey, in 1921-1922 chief of the department of justice bureau of investigation, testified in the Harry M. Daugherty-Thomas W. Miller conspiracy trial today that Jesse Smith, friend of Daugherty, was accustomed to give pointed suggestions and orders to him.

He described Smith as "a nervous sort of man who was all over the place" and added that once when he had gone to see Daugherty personally, the attorney general told him: "Now I am very busy. You take up such matters with Col. Smith. He will tell you what to do. We room together."

FATHER AND TWO SONS NOW SIT IN JAIL

ARRESTED ON CHARGES IN CON-
NECTION WITH BANK
FAILURE

THREE VOOGDS SEEK RELEASE
ON BAIL BY AUSTIN
JUDGE

Austin, Minn., Sept. 17.—(UP)—A father and two sons, who are in jail here on charges in connection with the failure of the Dexter State Bank, were to seek release on bail today when Judge Norman E. Peterson of Albert Lea fixes the amount of their bond.

The three arrested are:
John G. Voogd, Sr., president of the bank, accused of accepting deposits in an institution known to be insolvent.

John G. Voogd, Jr., charged with the same offense as his father.

William Voogd, charged with loaning himself money as a director of the bank in excess of the amount allowed by law.

As the result of a citizens' investigation after the bank was closed April 27, the brothers were taken into custody Thursday afternoon and arraigned in justice court. They were given a preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court.

When the father returned Thursday evening from a vacation in Iowa, he, too, was taken into custody.

John, Jr., was cashier of the bank when it closed and William formerly was cashier. William, it is alleged, loaned himself $1,750 of the institution's money.

CONSPIRACY TO OBSTRUCT JUSTICE NOW CHARGED

WARRANTS FOR THE ARREST OF
AIMEE SEMPLE Mc-
PHERSON

ALSO OF FOUR OTHER PEOPLE
CLAIMED TO BE IN-
VOLVED

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Warrants for the arrest of Aimee Semple McPherson and four others on three counts of an alleged conspiracy to obstruct justice were issued at the district attorney's office today.

The warrants signed by District Attorney Asa Keyes, charged perjury and preparation of false evidence and were the climax of a long investigation of the evangelist's story of kidnapping and imprisonment which caused a nation wide sensation.

Others named in the warrants were Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple; Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother; Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman and "John Doe" Martin.

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—Arrest of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, famous evangelist, her mother and three other principals in the investigation of her kidnapping story was expected today.

Warrants charging five persons with perjury in affidavits and in testimony before the grand juries, which investigated the alleged abduction, have been prepared by District Attorney Asa Keyes.

Keyes said the papers would not be served until completion of an investigation in which he expects to prove Mrs. McPherson's account of abduction into the Mexican desert last May was "a grand hoax." The investigation, however, would be only a matter of hours, Keyes said.

Those named in the warrants besides the religious leader, were her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Seilaff, Kenneth G. Ormiston and "John Doe" Martin, an attorney.

"I will remain behind jail bars and my preaching will be carried out by disciples," Mrs. McPherson said, when she will be arrested. She said she will not attempt to secure freedom on bond.

"Like John Bunyan, who wrote 'Pilgrims' Progress' while in jail, I will carry on behind the bars," she added.

Keyes said that Mrs. McPherson conspired with Mrs. Seilaff, Martin and Mrs. Kennedy to secure evidence in support of the kidnapping story. Keyes believes that during the time she was supposed to be a captive she was in Carmel by the Sea, near here, at a "love nest" with Ormiston, who formerly was radio operator at Angelus Temple, the seat of Mrs. McPherson's cult.

Issuance of the warrants was the first official attack on the evangelist since her disappearance.

Ormiston's attorney informed Keyes he will surrender Ormiston. It was believed the arrests were being delayed by Keyes until he had questioned Ormiston.

A prison term of 1 to 14 years is the penalty upon conviction of the perjury charge.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS BIG WINTER ACTIVITIES

JUNIORS BEGIN GYMNASIUM
WORK ON SEPTEMBER 27

COMBINED FINANCIAL AND MEM-
BERSHIP APPEAL LAUNCHED
TUESDAY

The program of activities for the winter work of the Y. M. C. A. is being drawn up, and will include many features of interest to boys and men. The chief athletic interest will center around the basketball work for all ages.

A league of three-men basketball teams, to include a forward, center, and guard on each team, is being planned to start the grind about the first of November. This league will give the cage men a chance to get in trim for the real season, which will open about the middle of December.

Junior gym classes will start on Monday, Sept. 27, with the juniors divided into age groups. Those 14, and 15 years old will work out on Mondays and Thursdays, the 11, 12, and 13 years old boys on Tuesday and Fridays, and the younger boys, 8, 9, and 10 years of age, will have Wednesday evenings. Basketball leagues and other athletic activities will be planned for each group.

It is hoped to schedule a regular class for older men, business men, and others who wish to keep in trim throughout the winter by one or two periods in the gym.

The club work is well under way, with the Hi-Y club already having an initial meeting to plan the year's activities. Mark Paterson is president, and he has his committee heads chosen, and a number of high school boys are ready to join with the old members. One of the chief matters of work for this club this year is the older boys' conference which comes to Brainerd on Nov. 12 for a three day session.

The financial and membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. for the year's budget is planned for next week, starting on Monday evening with a dinner for the workers. The real campaign will start on Tuesday. Some preliminary canvassing has been conducted already, with a cordial response on the part of those called on.

R. C. Coffin, state secretary, is expected in the city on Monday, and will assist in the set-up, and Lester Howard, another of the state staff, expects to come through here on Wednesday, to spend a day.

BRECKENRIDGE BANDITS NOW AT STILLWATER

Stillwater, Minn., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Two of the bandits implicated in the attempted holdup of a pool hall at Breckenridge, Minn., have entered the Stillwater penitentiary to serve one to 10 year terms.

Eddie "Kid" Moore of Louisiana and Jack Noxel pleaded guilty before Judge Flaherty at Morris and were sentenced.

Another of the bandits was killed and Moore was captured as a result of several of the 15 persons who were being held up slipping away and calling police. Noxel was captured later.

CLAIM U. S. PUT PRESSURE ON LITTLE CUBA

London, Sept. 17.—(UP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Geneva today said the United States had applied pressure to Cuba to prevent the latter country from being a candidate for the League of Nations council during yesterday's election.

Cuba renounced her candidacy several days before the election although it had been expected that she would be elected easily.

DENIAL BY STATE DEPARTMENT

Washington, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The state department today denied reports that the United States had exerted pressure on Cuba, causing the latter to withdraw its candidacy for a League of Nations council seat. It was said this government had no connection with Cuba's league activities.

MYSTERY CASE IS

Ole Widdal, Attacked Glory, Minn. Farmer, Regains Consciousness

REFUSES TO TALK

Received Fractured Skull and Other Injuries; Brother is Missing

Although Ole Widdal, Glory, Minn., farmer who was severely clubbed in an attack by an unknown assailant has regained consciousness he has refused so far to give out information to the sheriff's department to aid them in the apprehension of the guilty party.

The affair still remains the same tangle it has been in for the past week when Ole Widdal was taken to the Aitkin hospital in an unconscious condition received when he was attacked at his farm.

His brother Peter Widdal who appears to have a strong connection in the case has disappeared and has not yet been located. It is believed by many although Ole does not verify it that Peter was carried off by parties and an attempt made on his life.

Ole Widdal is still in a critical condition having received a fractured skull and other wounds, believed to have been inflicted by an ax or some other instrument.

Against Withdrawal
of Waters from Lake
Michigan by Chicago

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 17.—(UP)—New York will join Michigan in suit against the Chicago sanitary district to prevent diversion of waters from the great lakes, it was announced today by C. C. Ferris, attorney general of New York, who came to Lansing to confer with Attorney General Andrew B. Daugherty of Michigan.

While both Michigan and Wisconsin have started suits against the sanitary district with a similar object, Wisconsin concedes the right of congress to authorized withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan. The Michigan suit declares withdrawal is an invasion of sovereign rights of other states and cannot be allowed by the federal government.

Ole Widdal, Attacked Glory, Minn. Farmer, Regains Consciousness

REFUSES TO TALK

Received Fractured Skull and Other Injuries; Brother is Missing

Although Ole Widdal, Glory, Minn., farmer who was severely clubbed in an attack by an unknown assailant has regained consciousness he has refused so far to give out information to the sheriff's department to aid them in the apprehension of the guilty party.

The affair still remains the same tangle it has been in for the past week when Ole Widdal was taken to the Aitkin hospital in an unconscious condition received when he was attacked at his farm.

His brother Peter Widdal who appears to have a strong connection in the case has disappeared and has not yet been located. It is believed by many although Ole does not verify it that Peter was carried off by parties and an attempt made on his life.

Ole Widdal is still in a critical condition having received a fractured skull and other wounds, believed to have been inflicted by an ax or some other instrument.

WOUNDING OF
DR. T. S. PAULSON

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 17.—(UP)—An investigation was launched today into the wounding of Dr. T. S. Paulson of Fergus Falls, while he was hunting with two companions in the vicinity of Elbow Lake.

Dr. Paulson was wounded in the neck by a charge of shot from the gun of one of another hunting party and it was charged by Anton Paulson, a brother, that the shooting followed an argument between the two groups of hunters and was deliberate.

County Attorney R. J. Stromme of Elbow Lake, and Sheriff E. L. Johnson of Elbow Lake, heard Anton Paulson's story and announced that they would institute an investigation of the incident today.

The land on which the shooting occurred was owned by a relative of Dr. Paulson and his party took up its position near the lake early in the day. The other party was beating to the south, but with most of the ducks flying from the north, Dr. Paulson and his companions were having the better luck.

This was said to have created some friction and when Dr. Paulson was shot while rowing in the lake to pick up some ducks he had winged, it was charged that the other party was responsible.

EDWARD BOPPEL, 69, DIED YESTERDAY

Was Manager of the Brainerd Brewery Co., for a Number of Years

A resident of Brainerd for the past 30 years, Edward Boppel, well known local resident died last night at 11 o'clock at his home in West Brainerd at the age of 69 years.

Mr. Boppel was born in Baden, Germany on Nov. 3, 1857, coming to the United States in 1888. He was manager of the Brainerd Brewery Co., for almost 25 years.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Bethlehem Evangelical church to the Evergreen cemetery.

Surviving are a wife and four sons and three daughters. One nephew Julius Holz, of Minneapolis also survives him.

Phrases Link Mankind to the Lower Animals

Traits and characteristics of animals have furnished the English language some of its most expressive words and phrases. A pig is notoriously greedy, hence the word piggish. It is also obstinate and perverse, as any one knows who has tried to drive one. From this trait is derived the word pig-headed. A dull, stupid fellow is termed asinine and a headstrong man is called bullish. Since the lion is the king of beasts, naturally he gets his share every time, hence the phrase, the lion's share. Being aggressive he furnished the inspiration for the word lion-hearted. To be foxy is to be wily or cunning like the fox; to be tigerish is to resemble the tiger in fierceness and bloodthirstiness. To smell a rat, meaning to scent a plot or to be suspicious of some scheme, comes from the rat's unsavory odor. To gopher, a term used in mining, is to burrow irregularly in the ground after the manner of gophers. To dog is a verb which means to follow like a dog; to hound has a little different meaning as it implies pursuing relentlessly. A sheepish person is bashful, timorous, or meekly diffident, and a mulish individual is stubborn. To be elephantine is to be clumsy and huge. To be chicken-hearted implies timidity, lack of courage. A wolf is crafty, rapacious, hence the word wolfish. A bear is a coarse, uncouth person. To ape is to imitate or to mimic as apes do human actions; to monkey with is to fool with or to meddle with, as monkeys do with anything which takes their fancy. Monkey business, which is listed with slang phrases, conveys a similar idea. From man's best friend come three familiar expressions, horse play, horse laugh and horse sense. The first two seem much less appropriate than does horse sense.—Indianapolis News.

Indian Gift

A deed signed by Indian chiefs seven years before the Revolutionary war, the signatures consisting of figures of birds, fish and other animals forming the symbols of the tribes concerned, would ordinarily be regarded as a historical curiosity. But an ancient document of this description became endowed with highly practical importance when it was offered as evidence in litigation over title to 2,500 acres of forest land in Hamilton county. The dispute, which has been in the courts for two decades, has at last been decided in favor of the state. It is an odd turn of events that brings into the transactions of a day of airplanes and radios a bit of paper signed by men whose means of rapid transit was the canoe and whose written communications were in hieroglyphics.—New York Evening Post.

Respirators Not Perfect

Fifty per cent efficiency against tobacco smoke is the standard adopted by the United States bureau of mines for gas masks to assure protection from smoke and dust. Many industrial dust respirators and many different fabrics, ranging from cheesecloth and absorbent cotton to cotton flannel, were used in the laboratory tests made by S. H. Katz, G. W. Smith and E. G. Meiter. Tobacco smoke was used as a criterion because, being excessively difficult to arrest, it affords a severe test for the respirators. While their use among workers in such dusty industries as mining should be encouraged, the tests show that respirators cannot be regarded as a final safeguard, the experts say.

Baghdad Is Right Spelling

The celebrated city of Asia Minor, formerly capital of the empire of the caliph and site of the tomb of Zohrff, wife of the Caliph Haroun-Al-Raschid, should be spelled Baghdad, and not Haggad, the United States Geographic board has decided, for government usage.

GOLD COAST SPORT HAS ITS DANGERS

Crocodile Hunting by No Means One-Sided.

Crocodile digging is a novel sport enjoyed by residents of Accra, on the Gold coast, says a writer in the London Field. It is similar to the British ferreting of rabbits, but the rabbits are replaced by crocodiles of any size from three feet to eight feet long, and the ferrets by natives armed with shovels. The crocodiles' holes are situated near a lagoon in peculiar basin-shaped hollows, the sides of which are composed of circular ridges of sand, the center or bottom of the basin being partially dried mud.

The holes, which have only one entrance, are dug out of the sandy ridge by the crocodiles, and always face inland and away from the prevailing wind from the sea. This fact precludes any attempt to smoke them out, and necessitates digging operations. This latter is not difficult, owing to the sandy nature of the soil.

The usual course followed is: A party of two or three natives with shovels are sent on ahead to mark down a hole showing fresh tracks at the entrance, which they start to dig. The Europeans follow on horses later, and arrive when the digging operations are well advanced.

A double-barreled shotgun with No. 1 shot is usually employed. The sportsmen take up a position on top of the sandy ridge above the entrance to the hole.

As the diggers get further down, the inmate can be heard moving uneasily. The excitement is intense, and the native diggers pause after each stroke of the shovel to listen to the reptile's movements. Suddenly our friend down the hole, decides to bolt, and with a loud rattle charges out of the hole, the diggers, meanwhile flinging themselves upon the ridge to each side of the guns, and with astonishing rapidity, in so clumsy a brute, it is half-way across the mud bottom before the guns open fire.

A well-aimed shot at the nape of the neck, as he is clambering up the opposite slope, bows him over. This shot effectually stuns him, but no more, and he has to be finished off at close quarters. This latter necessitates caution, as sometimes he recovers consciousness before the coup de grace can be given, and woe betide the man who is within range of the lashing tail or snapping jaws when this happens.

Sometimes several small ones three to four feet long, will be bolted from one hole, coming out one after the other like a string of sausages and giving some very sporting shots.

Flying Upside Down

There is no theoretical reason why an airplane should not fly upside down indefinitely. There must be sufficient power to counteract the inefficiency of the wing in such flying. The aviator must be physically capable of withstanding a flow of blood to the head, and the engine must somehow be supplied with fuel even though the carburetor is high above the main gas tanks. By the simple expedient of placing a tank of gasoline well below the fuselage on an Avro training plane, according to the Scientific American, G. F. Van Damme of the Belgian army has flown upside down for the record time of 2 minutes and 27 seconds.

John Also "Went Dead"

Here lies the body of John H. Black, whose car went dead on the railroad track. When the engine gave it a jar, John H. "went dead" with the rest of the car.

But He Meant Well

She—Oh, I feel like such a fool with them on.
He—They are very becoming to you.

Oriental Rug Material

Most oriental rugs have a woolen warp. They are apt to be crooked on account of the elasticity of the wool. For this reason, cotton is supplanting wool, especially for the large rugs made to order for the European and American markets.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—We now turn to the stable for style inspirations and accept the horse halter as a collar and the horse blanket as a sports wrap. The horse collar is one of the latest ideas in neckwear this season and is found on coats, sports frocks and sweaters. This collar hangs about the neck in deep halter effect and may be in contrasting color to the frock. In some instances the portion between the base of the collar and the neck line is filled in with the same material as the horse collar.

As for the plaid horse blanket materials, they are being turned into steamer coats and sports coats and some of these models use self-fringe as a border trimming. Soft woolen squares of vivid plaids on neutral backgrounds can be purchased in the shops for coat purposes.

Tiers will flow generously as Fall approaches for the tiered skirt is again included in fashionable frocks. Sometimes the tiered idea takes the form of an apron which extends about the front of the skirt and has a string belt which ties at the rear. Two, three and as many as six small tiers form the front trimming of many frocks. They begin at the low waist line and end at the hem. Party frocks use the all-around tier effect.

Black will be quite as popular this Fall as it was during the period just after the World War. Bright colors are giving way to duller shades and black is of utmost importance. Black crepe-satin fashions many frocks with the reversible side of the material acting as trimming. Black woolen materials and velvets will be used for street coats. A combination that is well thought of in Paris at present in the black crepe dress banded with a wide border of black velvet at the hem line and a straight-lined coat of black velvet.

We see much of velvet or velveteen coats in the shops at present and doubtless they will be popular as the early Fall wraps.

Steps in Warfare

Historians say that Egypt was the first country to have a military organization. Sesostris or Rameses III was the first military organizer of Egypt (1620 B. C.). Palamedes in 1193 B. C. was the first to form an army in a regular line of battle. The first guards and regular troops of a standing army were formed by Saul in 1093.

Explorers Well Supplied

When Albert Smith and three friends set out to climb Mount Blanc, each took four guides, together with twenty porters, to carry provisions, which included twenty loaves, ten cheeses, four legs and four shoulders of mutton, six pieces of beef, one of veal, four dozen fowls and chocolate, sugar, wine and dried fruits.

In a mammoth plant near New Orleans, gigantic machines are producing boards of Celotex that are shipped to all parts of the world. A single day's output of the Celotex plant equals the amount of lumber that could be cut from a seventy-five acre tract of pine timber.

Amazing Lumber that isn't cut from trees!

Celotex stops heat and cold many times as effectively as wood lumber... is stronger in walls... yet costs no more to use. Year after year, it will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money.

FIVE years ago, a way was found to make lumber that possesses structural advantages plus insulating properties that wood alone can never offer.

It was a complete new building material: a heat-stopping lumber that banished cold draughty rooms and wasted fuel in Winter... hot, stuffy rooms in Summer.

This amazing lumber is Celotex. It is not cut from trees, but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It is enduring... scientifically sterilized and waterproofed. Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber and many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel bill!

NEW COMFORT for old houses. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

CELOTEX

How Celotex is used in both old and new houses

AS SHEATHING
Celotex supplies the insulation needed back of brick, wood or stucco exteriors.

UNDER PLASTER
On inside walls and ceilings, plaster is applied directly to the surface of Celotex.

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

Oriental Rug Material

Most oriental rugs have a woolen warp. They are apt to be crooked on account of the elasticity of the wool. For this reason, cotton is supplanting wool, especially for the large rugs made to order for the European and American markets.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—We now turn to the stable for style inspirations and accept the horse halter as a collar and the horse blanket as a sports wrap. The horse collar is one of the latest ideas in neckwear this season and is found on coats, sports frocks and sweaters. This collar hangs about the neck in deep halter effect and may be in contrasting color to the frock. In some instances the portion between the base of the collar and the neck line is filled in with the same material as the horse collar.

As for the plaid horse blanket materials, they are being turned into steamer coats and sports coats and some of these models use self-fringe as a border trimming. Soft woolen squares of vivid plaids on neutral backgrounds can be purchased in the shops for coat purposes.

Tiers will flow generously as Fall approaches for the tiered skirt is again included in fashionable frocks. Sometimes the tiered idea takes the form of an apron which extends about the front of the skirt and has a string belt which ties at the rear. Two, three and as many as six small tiers form the front trimming of many frocks. They begin at the low waist line and end at the hem. Party frocks use the all-around tier effect.

Black will be quite as popular this Fall as it was during the period just after the World War. Bright colors are giving way to duller shades and black is of utmost importance. Black crepe-satin fashions many frocks with the reversible side of the material acting as trimming. Black woolen materials and velvets will be used for street coats. A combination that is well thought of in Paris at present in the black crepe dress banded with a wide border of black velvet at the hem line and a straight-lined coat of black velvet.

We see much of velvet or velveteen coats in the shops at present and doubtless they will be popular as the early Fall wraps.

Steps in Warfare

Historians say that Egypt was the first country to have a military organization. Sesostris or Rameses III was the first military organizer of Egypt (1620 B. C.). Palamedes in 1193 B. C. was the first to form an army in a regular line of battle. The first guards and regular troops of a standing army were formed by Saul in 1003.

In a mammoth plant near New Orleans, gigantic machines are producing boards of Celotex that are shipped to all parts of the world. A single day's output of the Celotex plant equals the amount of lumber that could be cut from a seventy-five acre tract of pine timber.

Amazing Lumber that isn't cut from trees!

Celotex stops heat and cold many times as effectively as wood lumber... is stronger in walls... yet costs no more to use. Year after year, it will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money.

FIVE years ago, a way was found to make lumber that possesses structural advantages plus insulating properties that wood alone can never offer.

It was a complete new building material: a heat-stopping lumber that banished cold draughty rooms and wasted fuel in winter... hot, stuffy rooms in summer.

This amazing lumber is Celotex. It is not cut from trees, but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It is enduring... scientifically sterilized and waterproofed. Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber and many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel bill!

NEW COMFORT for old houses. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

CELOTEX

INSULATING LUMBER

How Celotex is used in both old and new houses

AS SHEATHING
Celotex supplies the insulation needed back of brick, wood or stucco exteriors.

UNDER PLASTER
On inside walls and ceilings, plaster is applied directly to the surface of Celotex.

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

UTILITIES SET NEW BUSINESS STANDARDS

THE question is sometimes asked, "How were the public utilities of the United States developed on such a sound foundation that they excel those of all other countries?"

And in a well written editorial, the "Industrial News Bureau, The Manufacturer," replies:

Managers of these companies, early in the growth of their industry, began to realize that success lay in square dealing and a full public understanding of their affairs. Today, these great industrial organizations stand for democracy in business. There is no secrecy or official pomp surrounding them. They are natural monopolies, and their rates and service are subject to public regulation. Their stocks and bonds are owned by millions of American citizens. The lowest man on the payroll has as good a chance to become president of the company, if he has the ability, as the president's son. Efficiency and service are the watchwords of these institutions.

One of the greatest factors in bringing about understanding, contentment and cooperation in utility organizations has been the intelligent use of printer's ink. House organs of such companies breathe the spirit of friendliness and understanding. A perusal of the illustrations they contain shows a type of American citizenship of the highest order. Most of the illustrations are snapshots of employees or officers. A remarkable thing to be noted is the expression on the various faces—intelligence, happiness, or concentration on the work before them, is clearly evident. This applies to the worker in overalls, the girl at the switchboard, the lineman on a pole, or an executive at his desk.

Month by month and year by year such publications have made employees better acquainted with each other, and with the problems which are mutual to themselves, the public and the company for which they work. Printer's ink has brought about a leveling process which has resulted in understanding. There is no dividing line between the president's desk and the laborer's lunchroom. Both the president and the day laborer know that their jobs depend upon rendering good public service, and that the one is dependent on the other in producing satisfactory results.

It can be safely said that this better understanding which has been developed by the industry, is largely responsible for the supremacy of service furnished by the utilities of the United States.

In Brainerd our utilities are the railways, gas company, water and light board, telephone company, etc., all of which seek to make the public familiar with their business.

A MANAGER'S EDITORIAL

In a recent issue of "The Northwestern Bell," official organ of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, Henry D. Hoffman, local manager, is given a place of honor with his editorial entitled, "A Manager's Editorial."

Mr. Hoffman says: "I believe that deep down in our hearts we all have a desire to attain the higher and the bigger things of life. Probably the reason that we so often miss the mark is because we do not stop to analyze the meaning of that for which we seek. These ambitions are by no means new or modern. They were uppermost in the minds of men many centuries.

"Peter and Paul were great and successful men in their day and their lives are living examples the world over today. In their ambition and desires to be of greater service to their fellowmen, they came to Christ saying, 'Lord what must we do to become great men,' and He answered, 'He that is greatest among you should be the servant of all.' And in these few words rests the success of our lives, for greatness can only come by serving and understanding our fellowmen.

"The physician who contents himself with the writing of prescriptions and has for his ultimate goal the accumulation of wealth cannot be termed a success. But when he devotes his time and talents to the prevention and cure of disease, he is rendering a real service which cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

"Alexander Graham's picture would not be hanging in the hall of fame had he contented himself with money profits. It was his ambition and desire to unite the nation by universal service that has made him a great man.

"Our business presents to us wonderful opportunities for service."

CONG. KNUTSON STARTS PENSION COMING

FOR some unknown reason Mrs. Bannon, of Williams, the widow of a Civil War veteran, has not been receiving the pension to which she is entitled. The matter was brought to the attention of Congressman Harold Knutson when he was in town last week. Mr. Knutson went directly to the depot and wired the proper officials at Washington. Yesterday, Mrs. Bannon was advised by wire that she will receive $624 in back pensions and $30 per month from now on.

This is just one of the hundreds of little services Mr. Knutson has rendered people in his district. It is one of the hundreds of reasons why he is so popular with the voters. He is never too busy to take care of the things brought to his attention.—Northwestern Light, Williams, Minn.

THE Northern Pacific railway company will try out one of its gas-electric coaches on the Brainerd-Kelleher run. The trial is in the way of an experiment. A similar coach was used for a time on the Morris-Little Falls-Staples run, says the Little Falls Daily Transcript, but did not prove satisfactory, the car being too small to handle the business.

AT Hibbing they raise men who can keep the wolf from the door. Frank Ansley, one of Hibbing's early mayors, kicked a timber wolf to death at his farm near town. The animal rushed at him with its fangs bared, but Ansley responded with his heavy footwear.

A SURE test of one's memory, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, is to remember what each one of your twenty keys on your key ring is good for.

KANSAS CITY MILLING INTERESTS BALK LOWER FREIGHT

Minneapolis, Sept. 16.—(UP)—The plea of Kansas City milling interests that freight rates on east bound grain and flour be maintained at the same level for all milling centers of the middle west was attacked before the Interstate Commerce commission today by Frank S. Townsend, representing Twin City business interests.

The I. C. C. is conducting a hearing on the voluntary request of the Minneapolis & St. Louis and Soo Line railroads for a six cent reduction in freight rates on flour and grain from the Twin Cities to the east.

Townsend said that the Kansas City plea for a rate reduction paralleling any reduction granted the twin cities was not supported by an examination of existing tariff schedules.

"Kansas City claims the rate from that city to Chicago is 17.5 cents," he testified, "but examination of the tariffs shows that the rates are as low as nine or eight cents and on the Rock Island as low as 6.5 cents, which is 11 cents less."

Townsend said the lower freight rates on the lakes is diverting business which formerly came to Minneapolis mills to Buffalo by way of Duluth.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Sept. 17, 1901

Deputy Game Warden Jeff Saunders left this afternoon for Bemidji. F. L. Barnes returned this morning from North Dakota and Montana where he has spent a month or two hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. White went to Minneapolis this afternoon for a visit with relatives.

J. N. Woldrop, agent for A. A. White, yesterday sold to O. S. Hendricks, lots 10, 11, and 12, in block 133. The sale was made yesterday afternoon at four o'clock and the deed for the property came from St. Paul this afternoon.

Henry Leland and John Snyder, two old time residents of Brainerd are in the city today shaking hands with old friends. They are now residents of Sault Ste. Marie where they have been located since leaving Brainerd in 1886. Mr. Leland was in business here for years and Mr. Snyder was an N. P. conductor.

Work will commence either this afternoon or tomorrow morning on the excavation for the new St. Joseph's hospital to be erected in this city by the order of St. Benedict and the beautiful site which has been selected on Bluff Avenue between Holly and Ivy streets, by the order will be the scene of much activity during the approaching weeks. The large new hospital which will mark the site of the building now utilized for hospital purposes will be one of the most modern in the state, and will not only be a worthy institution built by a worthy order, but will be a credit and a valuable addition to the city of Brainerd. It is thought that the building when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $22,000.

Too Deep for Her

However, she said nothing until the car stood poised at the top of the last and steepest descent of all, when she burst out: "Well, I wish when the world wrinkled it hadn't wrinkled so deep!"

AMUSEMENTS

"The Show-Off" at the Lyceum
When is a show-off not a show-off? Answer: when he makes good! This, apparently, is the humorous moral to be drawn from Malcolm St. Clair's rollicking comedy, "The Show-Off," which is now showing at the Lyceum. There is an unaffected naturalness about this celluloid version of George Kelly's famous play that stamps it as refreshingly different from the usual run of photo-plays.

The plot of "The Show-Off" is a simple, straightforward affair, dealing with an average American family and developing the sort of comic, pathetic and dramatic incidents that people experience in real life.

"The Golden Web," Oppenheim Story at Lyceum Saturday

E. Phillips Oppenheim, author of "The Golden Web," which in photo-play form is the feature attraction at the Lyceum theatre Saturday is a past master of the art of constructing with an average American family them around unusually interesting characters.

The locale of "The Golden Web" is London and South Africa and the story deals with the circumstances surrounding the transfer of a gold mine to a big corporation. The lure of gold changes the characters of many otherwise respectable people and the result is dramatic in the extreme.

BRAINERD
25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Sept. 17, 1901

Deputy Game Warden Jeff Saunders left this afternoon for Bemidji.

F. L. Barnes returned this morning from North Dakota and Montana where he has spent a month or two hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. White went to Minneapolis this afternoon for a visit with relatives.

J. N. Woldrop, agent for A. A. White, yesterday sold to O. S. Hendricks, lots 10, 11, and 12, in block 133. The sale was made yesterday afternoon at four o'clock and the deed for the property came from St. Paul this afternoon.

Henry Leland and John Snyder, two old time residents of Brainerd are in the city today shaking hands with old friends. They are now residents of Sault St. Marie where they have been located since leaving Brainerd in 1886. Mr. Leland was in business here for years and Mr. Snyder was an N. P. conductor.

Work will commence either this afternoon or tomorrow morning on the excavation for the new St. Joseph's hospital to be erected in this city by the order of St. Benedict and the beautiful site which has been selected on Bluff Avenue between Holly and Ivy streets, by the order, will be the scene of much activity during the approaching weeks. The large new hospital which will mark the site of the building now utilized for hospital purposes will be one of the most modern in the state, and will not only be a worthy institution built by a worthy order, but will be a credit and a valuable addition to the city of Brainerd. It is thought that the building when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $22,000.

Too Deep for Her

Nancy Jane, age seven and a half, was a member of a family party taking a drive one evening. A number of hills were encountered and it was seen they made the child nervous. However, she said nothing until the car stood poised at the top of the last and steepest descent of all, when she burst out: "Well, I wish when the world wrinkled it hadn't wrinkled so deep!"

Pride in Ancestry

It's all right to brag about your ancestors if nothing has happened since that you're proud of.—St. Paul Farmers' Dispatch.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Show-Off" at the Lyceum
When is a show-off not a show-off? Answer: when he makes good! This, apparently, is the humorous moral to be drawn from Malcolm St. Clair's rollicking comedy, "The Show-Off," which is now showing at the Lyceum. There is an unaffected naturalness about this celluloid version of George Kelly's famous play that stamps it as refreshingly different from the usual run of photoplays.

The plot of "The Show-Off" is a simple, straightforward affair, dealing with an average American family and developing the sort of comic, pathetic and dramatic incidents that people experience in real life.

"The Golden Web," Oppenheim Story at Lyceum Saturday

E. Phillips Oppenheim, author of "The Golden Web," which in photoplay form is the feature attraction at the Lyceum theatre Saturday is a past master of the art of constructing with an average American family them around unusually interesting characters.

The locale of "The Golden Web" is London and South Africa and the story deals with the circumstances surrounding the transfer of a gold mine to a big corporation. The lure of gold changes the characters of many otherwise respectable people and the result is dramatic in the extreme.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Full-Length Coat Is Fall Favorite

Winsome Straightline Garment Prominent on New Fashion Card.

One of the big joys of shopping around the sales is the smelling out of fall fashions, notes a fashion writer in the Kansas City Star. The shops have pieces of new merchandise displayed with that alluring phrase "a fall model," or perhaps it is a window of the newest shade of red or a showing of fall hats by their varied crowns and lovely shades. It may be a black crepe satin dress with dull and shining surfaces proclaiming its vantage—a moire or a velvet. Or it might be a fox scarf. Now, if there is one thing above another that can fire the imagination about a fall costume it's a fox scarf. The fur sales have been a perfectly fascinating variety of these scarfs.

The fuller skirt has given great latitude in the treatment of the bodice of the fall dress; capelets, deep berths that literally fall to the waistline, soft fichu-like collars and flowing jabot attachments, vestee effects and elaborate sleeves all tend to concentrate the attention on the bodice.

Colors which are of interest for fall are nymph, which is a very light pinkish red tone; Recamier, a deep green reminiscent of jade, but not quite so bright in cast; praline, similar to a light beige de rose, and quench, belonging to the purple classification. Blues ranging from periwinkle to navy, in addition to dark tones of green, red and purple, also are mentioned.

Plaids have impressed themselves upon style experts as being particularly ly important. They are combined cleverly with other materials, for the most part, or appear in sections rather than an all-over effect. Cited as examples of the attractive manner in which plaids are being used are some full-length straightline coats of pastel broadcloth which have panel collars reaching to the hemline made of the bias plaid, while the deeply set-in sleeves are cuffed in plaid.

An attractive fall sports coat, worn by Laura La Plante, motion-picture actress, is of striped cloth in brick, which shades from light to dark. It is cut on straight lines and has a handsome collar of brown fox fur. A vagabond hat of velours, which matches the deepest shade of the coat, a leather handbag and kid gloves complete the outfit.

Flat Compact Envelope Bag Has Strap Handle

A flat compact envelope bag with a diagonal strap handle at the back is made without a flap of any kind. In place of the clasp and flap opening there is a zipper-like cording of bronze, controlled by a leather tab. Inside, the bag is fitted with side pockets that hold a change purse, mirror and powder puff case. These bags are made of imitation alligator and snakeskin and come in all the new fall colors.

An adjustable dress hanger that may be molded to suit any type of garment, as well as any shoulder size, has an additional feature in that the hook top may be unscrewed for packing. These hangers are made of flexible steel covered with shirred silk ribbon. When an evening gown with narrow shoulder straps is hung on one of these the ends are bent upward to prevent their slipping off.

Dagger Pins Worn on Hats

Dagger-shaped pins are being worn on hats this season. They are made of dull metal or of rhinestones and are stabbed through the hat wherever the draped effect is required. Rhinestone monograms are also frequently used as hat ornaments. Animals, birds, etc., of rhinestones are not used as generously as these more tailored effects.

PILL-SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought natural relief in a few weeks

A remarkable, convincing tribute is paid Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminsen, of Seattle:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so deeply sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

F. C. AMINSEN,

Kennyhale, Seattle, Washington.

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly. Two tablespoonsfuls daily—or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is ALL BRAN. It does a job only ALL-BRAN can do. Part-bran products may not do any good at all.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream. Use it in cooking. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

SEVERE SELLING MOVEMENT APPARENT

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Today's market witnessed the most severe selling movement Wall street has had since the break last March. After a brief rally at the opening based on the continuance of the local red-count rate at four per cent, the speculative stocks plunged downward violently on heavy offerings.

No serious attempt was made to advance any development in the outside news as an explanation for the drop. Call money tightened to five per cent after renewing at 4½ per cent, but it was recognized that the stiffening was due to drawing on checks submitted for tax settlements.

Business news also continued good so there was no apparent reason for the weakness of stocks other than that the market still was in an over-bought position, and hence was vulnerable to professional attacks. These were pushed with great aggressiveness until late afternoon when indications were in evidence that the immediate force of the selling was subsiding.

However, price movements continued irregular at the close.

The market closed lower.

Perfect Saleswoman

Labor Secretary Davis said at a luncheon during the National Electric Light association's Atlantic City convention:

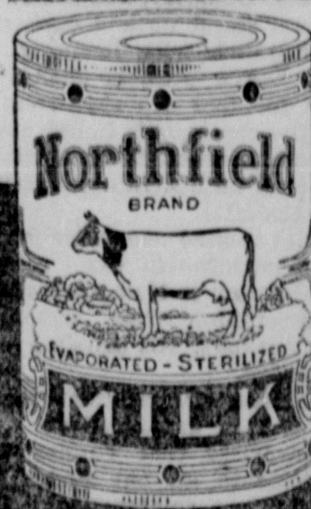

"Our 41,000,000 workers would be saved innumerable accidents if every plant in the country was perfectly lighted; but to make perfect lighting universal the electric light companies' salesmen would have to be as persuasive as the Paint Rock housewife."

"A salesman, you know, called on the housewife to sell her a jar of freckle remover, and, by George, before the fellow got away the woman had sold him two quart jars of freckle remover of her own make."

Jews in Exile

The Jews, contrary to general supposition, were not settled after the captivity entirely in the city of Babylon, but in the country of Babylonia, a large part of which is now known as Mesopotamia. The distance they traveled in their return to Jerusalem, therefore, was between 500 and 700 miles.

PILL-SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought natural relief in a few weeks

A remarkable, convincing tribute is paid Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Aminsen, of Seattle:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so deathly sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

F. C. AMINSEN, Kennewick, Seattle, Washington.

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend it because it is ALL-BRAN. It does a job only ALL-BRAN can do. Part-bran products may not do any good at all.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream. Use it in cooking. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Served by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

SEVERE SELLING MOVEMENT APPARENT

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Today's market witnessed the most severe selling movement Wall street has had since the break last March. After a brief rally at the opening based on the continuance of the local red count rate at four per cent, the speculative stocks plunged downward violently on heavy offerings.

No serious attempt was made to advance any development in the outside news as an explanation for the drop. Call money tightened to five per cent after renewing at 4 1/2 per cent, but it was recognized that the stiffening was due to drawing on checks submitted for tax settlements.

Business news also continued good so there was no apparent reason for the weakness of stocks other than that the market still was in an overbought position, and hence was vulnerable to professional attacks. These were pushed with great aggressiveness until late afternoon when indications were in evidence that the immediate force of the selling was subsiding.

However, price movements continued irregular at the close. The market closed lower.

Perfect Saleswoman

Labor Secretary Davis said at a luncheon during the National Electric Light association's Atlantic City convention:

"Our 41,000,000 workers would be saved innumerable accidents if every plant in the country was perfectly lighted; but to make perfect lighting universal the electric light companies' salesmen would have to be as persuasive as the Paint Rock housewife."

"A saleswoman, you know, called on the housewife to sell her a jar of freckle remover, and, by George, before the fellow got away the woman had sold him two quart jars of freckle remover of her own make."

Jews in Exile

The Jews, contrary to general supposition, were not settled after the captivity entirely in the city of Babylon, but in the country of Babylonia, a large part of which is now known as Mesopotamia. The distance they traveled in their return to Jerusalem, therefore, was between 500 and 700 miles.

NORMAN DERHAM CONQUERS THE CHANNEL

ENGLISHMAN CAPTURES PAPER PRIZE OF $6,000

OFFERED BY LORD RIDDLER, OWNER OF NEWS OF THE WORLD

FIRST ENGLISHMAN TO BETTER TIME MADE BY GERTRUDE EDERLE

London, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Norman Derham, an Englishman, completed a swim across the English Channel today and won $6,000 offered by Lord Riddler, owner of The News of the World, for any citizen of Great Britain, who could better Gertrude Ederle's time for the crossing.

Derham came ashore at St. Margaret's Bay, near Dover, at 10:57 A. M. today, 13 hours and 56 minutes after entering the water at Cape Gris Nez, France.

Miss Ederle's record time across the channel on August 6 was 14 hours and 31 minutes.

Derham was the third Englishman to ever swim the channel. Ernest Vierkotter, a German, swam across late in August, lowering Miss Ederle's record and a few days later Georges Michel, a Frenchman, established another record by achieving the swim in 11 hours and 6 minutes.

Today was Derham's third attempt this season. He entered the water at 9:01 last night and his effort was vouched for by The News of the World when that paper announced that he had won the prize offered immediately after Miss Ederle triumphed.

Twenty-one swimmers have challenged the channel this season. Their attempts aggregated 34. Five of the 21 were successful and of the five, two were American women. In all ten persons have swam the channel since 1865, an average of one successful crossing every 5.1 years.

THIRD GAME OF CITY SERIES PLAY TONIGHT

N. E. AND Y. M. C. A. TO FACE EACH OTHER IN ANOTHER BATTLE

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES RUN HIGH IN BOTH CONTESTING CAMPS

The third game of the city series for the championship of Brainerd in baseball will be played tonight at 5 o'clock, if rain permits. The diamond is heavy with water and mud from last night's downpour, but a crew of men has been working at it this afternoon in an attempt to put it in shape for the contest, and with a reasonable amount of sunshine, the grounds will be fairly fast.

Both teams are girding themselves for the battle, and another of the tight games is looked for. The N. E. team can clinch the championship by winning tonight's game, while the Y. M. C. A. is looking forward with just as big a determination to winning the game, and putting the series on an even keel.

To date the series stands in favor of the N. E. men, they having won the first game by a score of 3 to 0, while the second game resulted in a 1 to 1 tie in extra innings.

The game will start promptly at 5 o'clock in order to permit a full seven innings to be played.

LUQUE PITCHES FOR CINCINNATI

FRED FITZSIMMONS IS GIANTS' PITCHING SELECTION

McAULIFFE

SAYS IT'S END IN 2 ROUNDS

"AND WE'LL GO BACK TO NEW YORK EARLY," SAYS WRITER

"BUT FANS WILL GET THRILL, AS TUNNEY IS A GAME FELLOW"

Here is the first of the stories Jack McAuliffe, retired undefeated lightweight champion, will write for the United Press on the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

By JACK McAULIFFE, (Undeclared Lightweight Champion of the World)

(Written for the United Press)
Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—Gene Tunney closed the only door open to him, when he said he wanted to see Jack Dempsey in perfect condition so the sporting writers would be unable to say he had beaten the shell of the former Dempsey, and announced he would stand up and exchange punch for punch with Dempsey.

Tunney had a possible chance to maneuver for five or six rounds, avoiding the champion's famed opening rushes and when Dempsey tired, bring over all he had in a possibility of taking the title.

If he tries to give punch for punch it will be curtains in two rounds and we'll go back to New York early. That's my opinion after watching Tunney's workout. His showing was not impressive.

But the fans will get their thrill, for Tunney is a game fellow.

I am surprised that Tunney let such statements go out under his name. They are amateurish. But he is a great salesman and he has left that statement and a lot of others go out under his name just as part of his sales talk.

Gene should not be discouraged after meeting Dempsey, even if he loses, for he will learn more about boxing and fighting in Philadelphia than he would if he lived to Methusalem's age. It is in the cards that Dempsey may retire after this fight and Gene will become champion then because there is no one in sight today that he cannot beat excepting Dempsey.

It's bad dope for his friends to be shouting what he will do to Dempsey, which is like throwing red meat to a lion. For speaking out of turn, he will get his. He's asking for it.

TUNNEY NURSING A SORE LIP

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—When Tunney meets Jack Dempsey, the challenger will be nursing a sore lip, which the slightest tap from his opponent will cause to bleed.

Gene's treatment at the hands of Jimmy Delaney yesterday was just sufficient to open the bruised lip again and his trainer, Lou Fink, despaired of healing it with the big fight so near.

Benny Leonard was impressed with Tunney's condition and was anxious to see the challenger work out again today. He admitted that Tunney more than came up to expectations.

threw out Florence. Ford fumbled Fitzsimmons' grounder, Jackson scoring. Mueller hit into double play. One run, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning

Cincinnati—Roush doubled. Frisch threw out Pipp. Dessen fouled to Florence. Critz fouled to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Ford threw out Lindstrom. Frisch flied to Christy; so did Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Cincinnati—Hargrave singled; Ford sacrificed; Luque singled. Hargrave scoring. Christy forced Luque. Christy stole second. Walker walked. Roush forced Christy. One run, two hits, no errors.

New York—Terry singled and took second when Luque threw it past first. Tyson flied to Roush. Jackson struck out. Florence bounced to Pipp. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Cincinnati—Pipp struck out. Dessen beat out a grounder to Frisch. Critz doubled. Hargrave was passed, filling the bases. Ford flied to Mueller. Dessen scoring. One run, one hit, no errors.

New York—Fitz fanned. Ford fumbled Mueller's grounder. Lindstrom hit into a double play. No runs, no hits, one error.

Seventh Inning

Cincinnati—Christy drove to Terry. Walker grounded to Kelly. Roush drove to Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Critz threw out Frisch. Kelly flied to Roush, so did Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Emil Levsen, Cleveland pitcher, who allowed the New York Yankees but two hits in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday. The Indians took both games, 2 to 1 and 5 to 0 and the Yanks' margin in leading the league was cut to 4½ games.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Phillies twice by one sided scores, 23 to 3 and 10 to 2. By winning twice the Cards went back into a tie for the National league lead.

Cincinnati stayed with the Cardinals by shutting out the New York Giants 3 to 0. Pete Donohue completely mystified the Giants, enabling the Reds to grab their eighth straight victory.

The Boston Braves turned back the Chicago Cubs 5 to 1 behind the fine pitching of Bob Smith.

Brooklyn beat the falling Pittsburgh Pirates 2 to 1 in a pitchers' battle between Lee Meadows and Jess Barnes.

The Chicago White Sox by timely hitting defeated the Boston Red Sox 6 to 4.

Relief Pitcher Fred Marberry came to the rescue of two Washington pitchers and helped the Senators to beat Detroit twice, 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. The St. Louis Browns split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, taking the first game 1 to 0 when Zachary beat Grove and losing the second 5 to 1.

Jimmy Zinn, Kansas City pitcher, enabled them to win from Louisville 4 to 1.

Pounding out 17 hits off three Indianapolis pitchers, the Brewers slugged their way to a 13 to 6 victory over the Indians.

Scoring two runs in the 10th inning after the Millers had taken the lead in their half of the inning, the Hens made it three out of four of the present series by winning 5 to 4.

Ragged fielding on the part of the Senators and some terrific slugging by St. Paul, gave the Saints a 12 to 1 victory over Columbus.

THIRD GAME OF CITY SERIES PLAY TONIGHT

N. E. AND Y. M. C. A. TO FACE EACH OTHER IN ANOTHER BATTLE

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES RUN HIGH IN BOTH CONTESTING CAMPS

The third game of the city series for the championship of Brainerd in baseball will be played tonight at 5 o'clock, if rain permits.

The diamond is heavy with water and mud from last night's downpour, but a crew of men has been working at it this afternoon in an attempt to put it in shape for the contest, and with a reasonable amount of sunshine, the grounds will be fairly fast.

Both teams are girding themselves for the battle, and another of the tight games is looked for. The N. E. team can clinch the championship by winning tonight's game, while the Y. M. C. A. is looking forward with just as big a determination to winning the game, and putting the series on an even keel.

To date the series stands in favor of the N. E. men, they having won the first game by a score of 3 to 0, while the second game resulted in a 1 to 1 tie in extra innings.

The game will start promptly at 5 o'clock in order to permit a full seven innings to be played.

McAULIFFE SAYS IT'S END IN 2 ROUNDS

"AND WE'LL GO BACK TO NEW YORK EARLY," SAYS WRITER

"BUT FANS WILL GET THRILL, AS TUNNEY IS A GAME FELLOW"

Here is the first of the stories Jack McAuliffe, retired undefeated lightweight champion, will write for the United Press on the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

By JACK McAULIFFE.
(Undeclared Lightweight Champion of the World)

(Written for the United Press)

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—Gene Tunney closed the only door open to him, when he said he wanted to see Jack Dempsey in perfect condition so the sporting writers would be unable to say he had beaten the shell of the former Dempsey, and announced he would stand up and exchange punch for punch with Dempsey.

Tunney had a possible chance to maneuver for five or six rounds, avoiding the champion's famed opening rushes and when Dempsey tired, bring over all he had in a possibility of taking the title.

If he tries to give punch for punch it will be curtains in two rounds and we'll go back to New York early. That's my opinion after watching Tunney's workout. His showing was not impressive.

But the fans will get their thrill, for Tunney is a game fellow.

I am surprised that Tunney let such statements go out under his name. They are amateurish. But he is a great salesman and he has left that statement and a lot of others go out under his name just as part of his sales talk.

Gene should not be discouraged after meeting Dempsey, even if he loses, for he will learn more about boxing and fighting in Philadelphia than he would if he lived to Methuselah's age. It is in the cards that Dempsey may retire after this fight and Gene will become champion then because there is no one in sight today that he cannot beat excepting Dempsey.

It's bad dope for his friends to be shouting what he will do to Dempsey, which is like throwing red meat to a lion. For speaking out of turn, he will get his. He's asking for it.

TUNNEY NURSING A SORE LIP

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—When Tunney meets Jack Dempsey, the challenger will be nursing a sore lip, which the slightest tap from his opponent will cause to bleed.

Gene's treatment at the hands of Jimmy Delaney yesterday was just sufficient to open the bruised lip again and his trainer, Lou Pink, despaired of healing it with the big fight so near.

Benny Leonard was impressed with Tunney's condition and was anxious to see the challenger work out again today. He admitted that Tunney more than came up to expectations.

threw out Florence. Ford fumbled Fitzsimmons' grounder, Jackson scoring. Mueller hit into double play. One run, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning
Cincinnati—Roush doubled. Frisch threw out Pipp. Dressen fouled to Florence. Critz fouled to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Ford threw out Lindstrom. Frisch flied to Christy; so did Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Cincinnati—Hargrave singled; Ford sacrificed; Luque singled. Hargrave scoring. Christy forced Luque. Christy stole second. Walker walked. Roush forced Christy. One run, two hits, no errors.

New York—Terry singled and took second when Luque threw it past first. Tyson flied to Roush. Jackson struck out. Florence bounced to Pipp. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Cincinnati—Pipp struck out. Dressen beat out a grounder to Frisch. Critz doubled. Hargrave was passed, filling the bases. Ford flied to Mueller. Dressen scoring. One run, one hit, no errors.

New York—Fitz fanned. Ford fumbled Mueller's grounder. Lindstrom hit into a double play. No runs, no hits, one error.

Seventh Inning
Cincinnati—Christy drove to Terry. Walker grounded to Kelly. Roush drove to Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Critz threw out Frisch. Kelly flied to Roush, so did Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Emil Levsen, Cleveland pitcher, who allowed the New York Yankees but two hits in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday. The Indians took both games, 2 to 1 and 5 to 0 and the Yanks' margin in leading the league was cut to 4½ games.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Phillies twice by one sided scores, 23 to 3 and 10 to 2. By winning twice the Cards went back into a tie for the National league lead.

Cincinnati stayed with the Cardinals by shutting out the New York Giants 3 to 0. Pete Donohue completely mystified the Giants, enabling the Reds to grab their eighth straight victory.

The Boston Braves turned back the Chicago Cubs 5 to 1 behind the fine pitching of Bob Smith.

Brooklyn beat the falling Pittsburgh Pirates 2 to 1 in a pitchers' battle between Lee Meadows and Jess Barnes.

The Chicago White Sox by timely hitting defeated the Boston Red Sox 6 to 4.

Relief Pitcher Fred Marberry came to the rescue of two Washington pitchers and helped the Senators to beat Detroit twice, 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. The St. Louis Browns split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, taking the first game 1 to 0 when Zachary beat Grove and losing the second 5 to 1.

Jimmy Zinn, Kansas City pitcher, enabled them to win from Louisville 4 to 1.

Pounding out 17 hits off three Indianapolis pitchers, the Brewers slugged their way to a 13 to 6 victory over the Indians.

Scoring two runs in the 10th inning after the Millers had taken the lead in their half of the inning, the Hens made it three out of four of the present series by winning 5 to 4.

Ragged fielding on the part of the Senators and some terrific slugging by St. Paul, gave the Saints a 12 to 1 victory over Columbus.

BUILDING COMMITTEE HAS FLOOR FOR EVENING

Many Building Topics, Repairs Done, Discussed by School Board

SIDEWALK AUTHORIZED

North Side of Lincoln School Block to Have Sidewalk Entire Length

Building committee problems, suggestions and work done on schools were matters of uppermost interest at the last meeting of the Brainerd School Board.

The building committee reported on repairs, cleaning and redecorating work done during the summer months, recommending that Thompson Brothers and Clausen be allowed the full amount of their contract for cement work in the laying of a cement floor in the boiler room of the Whittier school at the cost of $175, and Vernon White was allowed the full amount of the contract of placing steel ceilings in a room in the Washington building, two hallways and one room in the Whittier building, one room in the Harrison building, and one in the Lowell building to the amount of $700.

Dryburgh & Bacon, painters were allowed their contract up to $100.

The building committee were authorized to relay or raise part of the cement sidewalk on the east side of the Lincoln school block. This sidewalk is below grade level and has been considered a dangerous proposition owing to the fact that from the curb line on Pine street to the beginning of the sidewalk on the property line has been much higher and has caused a drop off. The committee in being authorized to do this work will do so in conjunction with the board members of the first ward and the board members will interview the city council with the view of having the council meet the expense.

The building committee also recommended that a sidewalk be laid at least on half of the north side of the Lincoln block in view of the fact that it undoubtedly will become necessary to use the north entrance instead of the east entrance to eliminate danger on account of the opening up of Highway No. 27. On motion of the board the committee were directed to lay a cement sidewalk for the entire length.

No action was taken on the proposed fencing of the east side of the Lincoln school building.

The committee also laid stress in their report on the rewiring of part of the high school building. At the present time too heavy a load is being carried on one set of wires coming into the building and with co-operation of the water and light board it is planned to take another lead in from the south. On motion, the committee were instructed to have the work done as soon as possible.

The teachers committee reported that the following new teachers had been employed for 1926-27: Emma Brattvot, 8th grade; Norma Hagberg, Garfield; Elizabeth Reinertsen, physical training and history; George T. Johnson, science and mathematics, high school; Ruth Dolven, English, high school; Emilie Amundsen, English, history, and commercial, high school. The report of the teachers committee was accepted, their action ratified and the teachers employed at the salaries indicated.

The finance committee reported that their estimates for the year would be ready by October.

The health and sanitation report showing the schools to be in good condition and the health of the pupils good was received and on motion placed on file.

Treasurer Morrison submitted the quarterly report on conditions of the general fund and sinking fund for the quarter ending July 31. The report was received and referred to the finance committee for checking.

On suggestion of Superintendent Cobb, the building committee were directed to place in as suitable condition as possible the book rooms in the Harrison and Lincoln buildings for use of the teachers at large.

A report from the Travellers Insurance Co., on inspection of the boilers in the schools internally and externally showed the mto be in generally good condition.

The report of Superintendent Cobb on the schools at the opening of the year was accepted.

Ferocious attacks by muskrats on tourists in cars are reported from parts of the northwest, although no such reports have been received in the close vicinity of Brainerd, a condition which is baffling since the muskrat has heretofore never been considered an animal of destruction to be feared by people.

But facts concerning alleged attacks are borne out by two St. Cloud men, Walter Tenvoorde and Everett Schoener who emphatically state that a vicious muskrat entered their machine when their light coupe drove into a ditch near Aitkin and bit Schoener who managed to kill the animal.

Ernest Levior, of Minneapolis drove his car off the road into a ditch filled with water and had to break the glass in the door of the machine to escape. A savage muskrat attacked him, inflicting severe wounds on his hand and arm.

Reports are also received from Grand Rapids that muskrats in big drainage ditches are attacking motorists. Car owners are urged to carry a club for protection.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS STANDING UP WELL

Minnesota trunk highways have stood up well during the continued rains of the last two weeks, according to the weekly condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Many have remained good all the time, the most heavily traveled sections are still fair, and the only serious trouble is on detours and stretches under construction. In most cases these can be avoided by taking alternate routes.

Detailed reports of the conditions of the so-called "Dabcock roads" marked with the official yellow star follow, insofar as they refer to the Brainerd lake region:

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Gilbert Lukens and Mrs. Evelyn Paine Returned From Convention

HELD AT MONTICELLO

Mrs. Paine Was Elected to the Office of Grand Senior

The Pythian Sisters of this state held their annual Grand Temple meeting in conjunction with the Knights of Pythias at Monticello, on September 13 and 14. Monticello is a beautiful little place of approximately 1,200 population, located on the banks of the Mississippi River just across from Big Lake and only about 35 miles from Brainerd. The recently purchased Pythian Home is located about a mile out of the town proper on the river and was formerly the home of Thos. B. Lowry. It is a wonderful piece of property and much enthusiasm was shown by all the Knights and Sisters present over the acquisition of this institution which is to be used for the aged and orphans.

The Pythian Sisters session accomplished a great deal of work along the line of new legislation, and a very large amount was reported as already raised to help the Knights furnish their home.

The local temple of Brainerd was greatly honored by having one of its members, Mrs. Evelyn Paine, elected to the office of Grand Senior. This district as a whole was also honored with having Mrs. Jessie Voorhis of Staples elected Grand Junior, and Mrs. Nellie Merickel of Wadena elected Grand Outer Guard. This makes three Grand Temple Officers for this District No. 2, which is rather an unusual occurrence and should prove a great incentive for increased activity throughout this northern part of the state.

The 1927 convention will also be held at Monticello and both Mrs. Gilbert Lukens and Mrs. Paine who returned home Tuesday evening vote the people of Monticello royal entertainers and are looking forward with much pleasure to next year's session.

SPEAKS ON "FAITH"

Rev. Tyler Delivered Message at Wonderful Meeting at Full Gospel Assembly Last Night

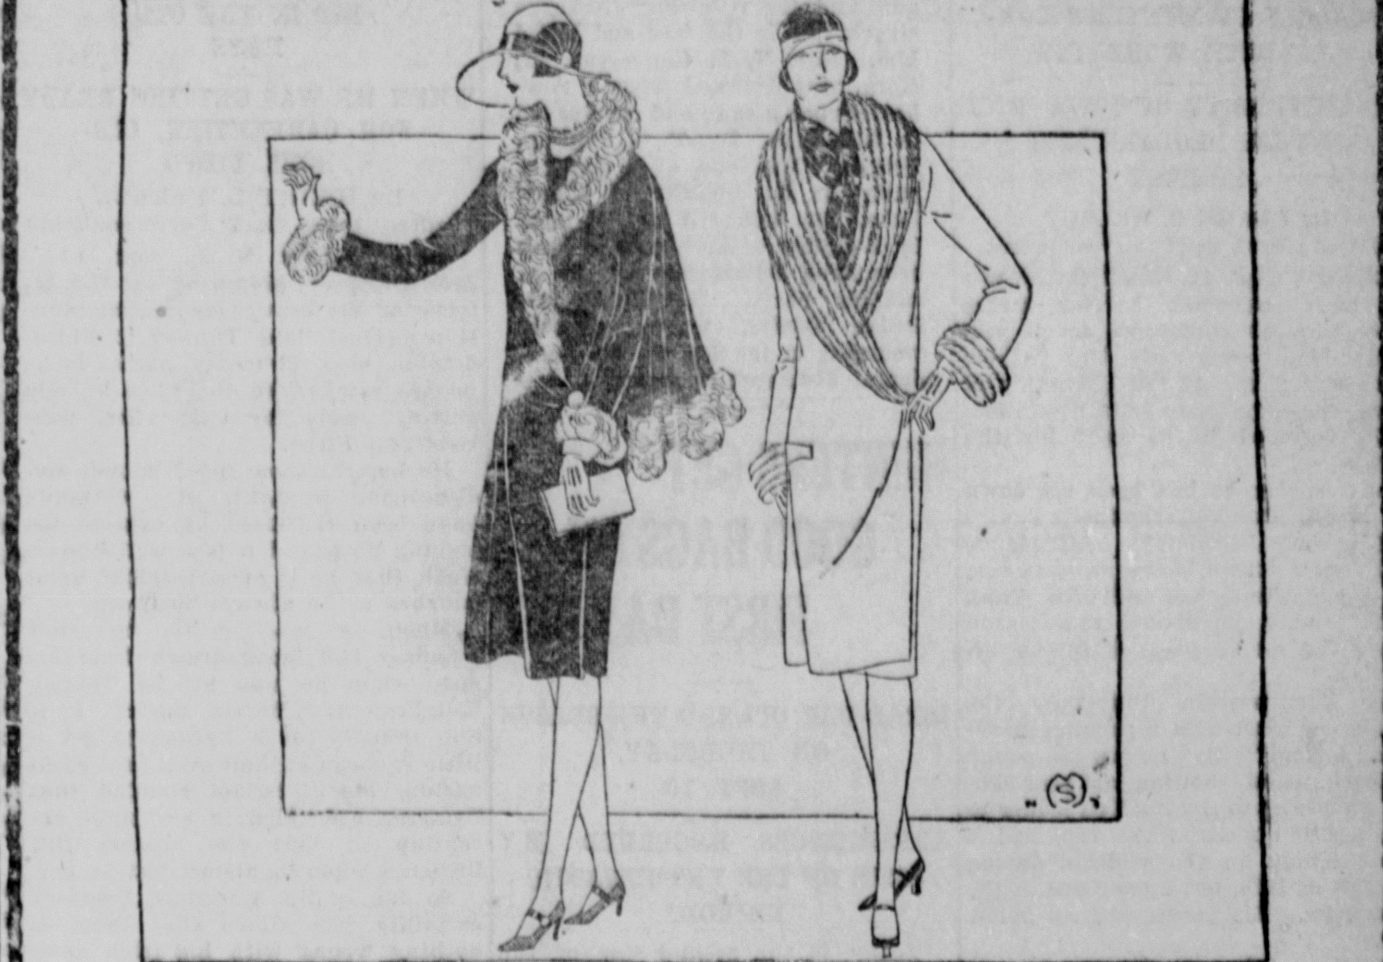

The revival services at the Full Gospel Assembly, ½ A street N. E. are growing in power and interest. Several out of town people were in to the service last night. Rev. Tyler brings a real Scriptural message, and God's Word is bringing forth results. The meetings continue every evening at 7:30, with two big services on Sunday, at 3 and 7:30 P. M.

"Faith," was the subject of last night's sermon by the evangelist. "From the beginning of these meetings we have emphasized Prayer," Rev. Tyler said, "and we shall continue to emphasize prayer to the end. Prayer is fundamental. Prayer is primary. We must pray. But we must also have faith for without faith it is impossible to please God. We must pray, and believe God; take Him at His Word; stand on His promises, and the results will follow. A common saying says that 'feeling is believing,' but that is not faith. It is not see and believe, but believe and see."

Unbelief is a terrible thing. It grieves the heart of God. It dishonors God. It reveals no confidence in God, and limits God. It is recorded of Jesus that He could do no mighty works in Nazareth because of their unbelief.

God says, "Prove me now." God wants a chance. Prove Him. He is waiting for a chance to save precious souls; to baptize believers in the Holy Ghost; to heal sick bodies;

STANDING UP WELL

Minnesota trunk highways have stood up well during the continued rains of the last two weeks, according to the weekly condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Many have remained good all the time, the most heavily traveled sections are still fair, and the only serious trouble is on detours and stretches under construction. In most cases these can be avoided by taking alternate routes.

Detailed reports of the conditions of the so-called "backbone roads" marked with the official yellow star follow, insofar as they refer to the Brainerd lake region:

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Gilbert Lukens and Mrs. Evelyn Paine Returned From Convention

HELD AT MONTICELLO

Mrs. Paine Was Elected to the Office of Grand Senior

The Pythian Sisters of this state held their annual Grand Temple meeting in conjunction with the Knights of Pythias at Monticello, on September 13 and 14. Monticello is a beautiful little place of approximately 1,200 population, located on the banks of the Mississippi river just across from Big Lake and only about 35 miles from Brainerd. The recently purchased Pythian Home is located about a mile out of the town proper on the river and was formerly the home of Thos. B. Lowry. It is a wonderful piece of property and much enthusiasm was shown by all the Knights and Sisters present over the acquisition of this institution which is to be used for the aged and orphans.

The Pythian Sisters session accomplished a great deal of work along the line of new legislation, and a very large amount was reported as already raised to help the Knights furnish their home.

The local temple of Brainerd was greatly honored by having one of its members, Mrs. Evelyn Paine, elected to the office of Grand Senior.

This district as a whole was also honored; with having Mrs. Jessie Voorhis of Staples elected Grand Junior, and Mrs. Nellie Merickel of Wadena elected Grand Outer Guard. This makes three Grand Temple Officers for this District No. 2, which is rather an unusual occurrence and should prove a great incentive for increased activity throughout this northern part of the state.

The 1927 convention will also be held at Monticello and both Mrs. Gilbert Lukens and Mrs. Paine who returned home Tuesday evening vote the people of Monticello royal entertainers and are looking forward with much pleasure to next year's session.

SPEAKS ON "FAITH"

Rev. Tyler Delivered Message at Wonderful Meeting at Full Gospel Assembly Last Night

The revival services at the Full Gospel Assembly, 1/2 A street N. E. are growing in power and interest. Several out of town people were in to the service last night. Rev. Tyler brings a real Scriptural message, and God's Word is bringing forth results. The meetings continue every evening at 7:30, with two big services on Sunday, at 3 and 7:30 P. M.

"Faith," was the subject of last night's sermon by the evangelist. "From the beginning of these meetings we have emphasized Prayer," Rev. Tyler said, "and we shall continue to emphasize prayer to the end. Prayer is fundamental. Prayer is primary. We must pray. But we must also have faith for without faith it is impossible to please God. We must pray, and believe God; take Him at His Word; stand on His promises, and the results will follow. A common saying says that 'seeing is believing,' but that is not faith. It is not see and believe, but believe and see."

Unbelief is a terrible thing. It grieves the heart of God. It dishonors God. It reveals no confidence in God, and limits God. It is recorded of Jesus that He could do no mighty works in Nazareth because of their unbelief.

God says, "Prove me now." God wants a chance. Prove Him. He is waiting for a chance to save precious souls; to baptize believers in the Holy Ghost; to heal sick bodies;

INELIGIBILITY BARRIER FACES MANY STUDENTS

TODAY, HOWEVER, ONLY TWO SCHOOLS OF WESTERN CONFERENCE WORRYING

AT UNIVERSITY OF IOWA NICK KUTSCH DECLARED FIT TO PLAY

By CLARK B. KELSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Sept. 17.—Ineligibility was the most important barrier facing three Western conference teams yesterday, but today only two schools were worrying. At the University of Iowa, "Cowboy" Nick Kutsch was last night declared fit to fight for the Hawkeyes.

Last spring he had been set down for infringement of examination rules and declared ineligible. Attendance at summer school, however, gave him the credits he lacked and with Frank "Bab" Cubel, he should this season share the major part of Iowa's offensive.

At Northwestern University the faculty is faced with a peculiar problem. Leland "Tilly" Lewis, 200 pound fullback, whose showing last year shot the Purple up to the Big Ten ladder to the position next to the top, had a great season on the gridiron during the fall of 1925, but a poor one in the classroom. His grades are all below par.

As a condition of allowing him to remain in the university the faculty asked him to sign an agreement not to play football in 1926. He agreed and signed his football death warrant.

Then in the spring he began to study and accumulated grades above the average of those of his classmates. He did the same in summer school and not only did he meet the conference standard of eligibility, but he was higher than the university's requirement, which is stricter than that of the Big Ten.

New Purple backers are waiting to see what the faculty will do. Captain "Moon" Baker removed scholastic conditions by summer school work. Both Lewis and Baker are necessities if Northwestern is to be a contender in the conference race.

At the University of Minnesota Herb Joesting and Shorty Almquist, two other sterling finds of last season, must pass examinations before donning suits.

WISCONSIN PREPARING FOR PURDUE BATTLE

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17.—(UP)—"Forget about Michigan and Minnesota—we're getting ready for Purdue." Coach George Little of Wisconsin University, reiterated that advice to the 66 football candidates whom he directed about Randall field yesterday, pointing them for their first encounter of the season.

Shifts and passes were stressed by Little and the six full teams are looking forward to actual scrimmage tomorrow.

Switching the players about frequently in lineups of these various teams, Little kept one practically intact. It included Crofoot, Bartlett, Kreuse and Barr in the backfield, Burrows and Cameron at ends, Stenabel and Lett at tackles, Kasiska and Von Bremer at guards and Wilke at center.

CARDINALS AND THE REDS TIED FOR LEAD

NINE GAMES TO GO FOR 2 CONTENDERS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

CARDINALS DEFEATED PHILLIES TWICE IN YESTERDAY'S GAMES

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Nine games to go and the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds were tied for first place again in the National League pennant fight today. The Cardinals, half a game behind the Reds yesterday, evened the race by defeating the Phillies twice while the Reds won one game from the New York Giants.

The Philadelphia games made a horridly baseball spectacle. The Cardinals gathered 41 hits and 33 runs in the two games. Weak as the Phillies are, the games were no index of the Cardinals' strength, although it takes a fairly strong team to commit such mayhem even on the Phillies.

The Reds played championship ball in shutting out the troublesome Giants.

The Reds meet the Giants again today and the Cardinals play the Phillies. Of the two the Cardinals

2 DIED, 2 HURT IN ACCIDENTS OF DUCK HUNTING

Two died and two others were wounded in accidents marking the opening of the duck hunting season in Minnesota. Peter Ewert, 19, Kasota, dropped a loaded shotgun and the resulting discharge struck him in the face and killed him. Rev. M. L. Gunderson, 27, Mora, was drowned when a rowboat struck a snag and overturned in Rice lake. Dr. T. S. Paulson, Fergus Falls, one of a hunting party in the vicinity of Elbow Lake, was wounded in the neck by a charge of shot, said to have been fired deliberately by one of another party. Harold Tieden, Dodge Center, was seriously wounded in the leg by the accidental discharge of a gun.

HUNTERS GET GOOD BAGS ON FIRST DAY OUT

IDEAL DAY OPENED THE SEASON
ON THURSDAY,
SEPT. 16

EXPERIENCES RECORDED BY SOME OF THE ENTHUSIASTIC
NIMRODS

Today is the second day of the duck hunting season and hunters are again flocking to the passes, marshes and lakes in the hopes of another good day's hunting.

For yesterday was really a good hunting day, as Carl Wright explained it. "It was ideal. The weather could not have been any more perfect nor the hunting better."

The majority of duck hunters out yesterday reported a favorable day and many brought in their limit bag of 12 water fowl.

A. A. Weaver and Clarence Smiley hunted at Red Sand Lake and Gull River and had successful shooting.

Joe Cibazar and W. R. Hiller hunted at Red Sand Lake and in spite of the fact that Hiller was shooting a new gun, he had a very successful day.

"We had one of the best shoots of our lives at Red Sand Lake," said Carl Wright who hunted at that lake with W. B. Cook, of Crosby. "The shooting lasted until nearly noon and we brought in a good bag in spite of the fact that we were unable to see the ducks, they being so close to us."

Several other parties also hunted at Red Sand Lake, while Whipple, White Sand and surrounding lakes had their quota of hopeful hunters.

A large number of ducks were killed in the neighborhood of Brainerd. Harold Kalland, considered by many the best shot in the city, was out yesterday and undoubtedly returned with the limit.

Bill Cleary, George Trent, Sr., Remington professional, George Trent, Jr., former Dapont pro., Dr. J. L. Frederick hunted at Platte Lake with success.

Ralph Long followed his custom for many years, shooting at Molly pass and as usual had no difficulty in getting the limit.

Bert Orne, Dr. B. Norquist and W. S. Orne spent a successful day at Leech Lake.

Edward Lake was reported to be not so good for hunting but a few birds were shot at Molly pass by enthusiastic hunters.

Lester Boyd and Fred Gruenhagen hunted at North Long Lake, Ed Hendrickson and Herb Cameron at Tamarack Lake, Sam Bloomstrom and Einar Erickson at Whipple Lake.

L. F. Hohman, Art White and Ira White were among the successful hunters at Johnson's gardens, as also were Tom Templeton and John Templeton.

The marriage was performed by a justice of peace at Ventura, near here, at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Friends of the couple were unaware of the wedding until Cody's announcement.

Miss Normand was scheduled to appear at the Hall Roche studios at noon to resume work on her current picture. It was her first marriage.

JACK DEMPSEY GIVEN ONCE OVER BY HANK FARRELL

SAYS HE LOOKS AS GOOD AS HE DID IN THE OLD DAYS

WHEN HE WAS GETTING READY FOR CARPENTIER, GIBBONS, FIRPO

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 17.—Jack Dempsey, preparing for the defense of his heavyweight championship against Gene Tunney in Philadelphia next Thursday night, looks just as good as he did when he was getting ready for Carpentier, Gibbons and Firpo.

He has the same speed, punch and disposition to fight. His workouts have been criticized by experts for lacking class and it is a well known cinch that he is open to right hand punches as he always has been.

Much was made of the fact that Dempsey had blood drawn from his nose when he was hit by Tommy Loughran and Martin Burke. It is not unusual for a fighter to get a little crimson on him even in a gymnasium but it is not recalled that Dempsey ever bled in any fight excepting in that one against Bill Brennan when he almost lost an ear.

So far in his workouts Dempsey certainly has shown that there is nothing wrong with his trick nose. He is sensitive about the charge that he had the beak altered to make himself good looking.

"I did it so I could breathe," he said, and he does not puff and pant like he used to when he was training.

Dempsey does not look like a great champion in his workouts against Tommy Loughran, but Loughran is an exceptional sparring partner, one of the best light heavyweights in the ring.

"I've never felt Dempsey punching harder," Martin Burke, another partner said. "I've boxed Tunney twice and I can't see where he has a chance to go more than three rounds."

It is difficult to rate Dempsey by his workouts. He looked terrible until about three days before the Gibbons fight and almost as bad when he was training for Firpo, but he was ready when he stepped into the ring. He trained very little for his second fight with Brennan and it took him 12 rounds to win the fight.

FOOTBALL SEASON AT BRAINERD IS HIGHLY PROMISING

20 TO 30 MEN ANSWER THE
CALL OF COACH BERESFORD

SCHEDULE OF SIX GAMES OPENS
AT MILACA ON SEPTEMBER 15

The football season in high school circles is starting out with a bang this year, some twenty to thirty men having answered Coach Beresford's call for candidates. A formidable schedule has been arranged and the opening game with Milaca at Milaca, Sept. 25, should end in a victory for the local gridlers who have been practicing every night and conditioning themselves generally.

The schedule which has been arranged calls for games with: Milaca at Milaca—Sept. 25. Staples at Staples—Oct. 2. Aitkin at Aitkin—Oct. 9. Crosby at Brainerd—Oct. 16. Aitkin at Brainerd—Oct. 23. Little Falls at Little Falls—Oct. 29.

About six of last year's men are available for this year's team and include Russell Putz, captain and fullback; Herman Buscher, quarterback; Lester Kruger, in the line. Among the new candidates are Frank Wise, quarterback; John Fisher, Wentworth Hayes, Verne McNamara, seeking backfield positions, and Tom Brown, John Ellison, Charles Weliver, George Fuller, Henry Hanson, Wendell Barnes, Walter Hantula and several others for line positions.

William Fitzharris, William Lowe and Earl DeRocher, stars of previous years, are back to regain positions and besides proving competition for the new men, will benefit this year's team by their former playing experience.

Brainerd has a chance this year to put out a winning team providing ineligibility does not take its toll.

KEARNS MAY OCCUPY TUNNEY'S CORNER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Sept. 17.—When Jack Dempsey walks in the ring in Philadelphia on the night of Sept. 23 to defend his heavyweight championship against Gene Tunney he may find in the other corner, back of his opponent, Jack Kearns.

Billy Gibson, manager of the marine challenger, hasn't announced his staff of seconds and Kearns hasn't said anything more definite than: "I'll be at the fight, you can bet that."

For other than the demoralizing effect that the presence of his former manager in his opponent's corner might have on Dempsey, Kearns would be a handy man to have around and in times of stress good seconds are needed almost as much for Gibson as for his fighter.

Never will those forget, who saw it, the face of Mr. William Gibson one night in old Madison Square Garden when Richie Mitchell clipped Benny Leonard on the chin and flopped him for the count of nine. Gibson's face turned almost green, his eyes popped and his mouth made all the motions of talking but not a word came out.

It was Leonard who kept his head and motioned to the panic stricken Gibson that he was not in danger. Leonard was fully recovered in a few moments but Gibson didn't get over it for a month.

It was Leonard also who shouted to his manager to keep quiet when he was being beaten all over the ring by Lew Tindler in their first fight. Leonard, it will be recalled, was in very bad shape but he kidded Tindler out of what was a great chance to win by a knockout. Leonard probably will be one of the seconds in Tunney's corner.

Kearns isn't the great second that he thinks he is but when he hasn't a million dollar fighter of his own to take care of he may not become so excited.

Kearns, in his memoirs, says that his quick thinking saved Dempsey between the first and second rounds of his memorable fight with Luis Firpo. Kearns says that Dempsey was out on his feet and flopped so heavily on the stool in the corner that he knocked the bottle of smelling salts out of his manager's hand. The bottle smashed on the floor but Kearns thought quickly, reached down and dipped the sponge in the ammonia and held it under Dempsey's nose and his head cleared.

If memory serves correct, and the pictures proved it, Kearns did nothing of the kind. The bottle didn't fall to the floor and break. It remained all during the intermission in his hands and the only nose under which it was applied was Mr. Kearns' nose!

It is doubtful what effect the presence of Kearns in the opposite corner would have on Dempsey. It certainly wouldn't surprise him. In fact he would be surprised if he didn't find his former manager telling him how to beat the champion.

Jim Jeffries was terribly disturbed when he saw Billy Delaney, his former manager, behind Jack Johnson but Jeffries was in such a state of nerves that the slightest annoyance would have upset him. Dempsey isn't of that temperament. Instead of bothering him it might arouse him to a fury.

His feelings, although he is very sensitive about some things, aren't easily hurt. He was worked into a frenzy when the crowd razed him before the Carpentier fight and he could have murdered anyone within reach when Tom Gibbons kept him waiting twenty minutes in the corner in Shelby.

Last year ineligibility proved the most disastrous factor in Brainerd's downfall. Parents and others are asked to co-operate and encourage the students to keep up in their studies and thereby help Brainerd to put forth a champion football as well as basketball and baseball teams.

INELIGIBILITY BARRIER FACES MANY STUDENTS

TODAY, HOWEVER, ONLY TWO SCHOOLS OF WESTERN CONFERENCE WORRYING

AT UNIVERSITY OF IOWA NICK KUTSCH DECLARED FIT TO PLAY

By CLARK B. KELSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Ineligibility was the most important barrier facing three Western conference teams yesterday, but today only two schools were worrying. At the University of Iowa, "Cowboy" Nick Kutsch was last night declared fit to fight for the Hawkeyes.

Last spring he had been set down for infringement of examination rules and declared ineligible. Attendance at summer school, however, gave him the credits he lacked and with Frank "Bab" Cubel, he should this season share the major part of Iowa's offensive.

At Northwestern University the faculty is faced with a peculiar problem. Leland "Tilly" Lewis, 200 pound fullback, whose showing last year shot the Purple up to the Big Ten ladder to the position next to the top, had a great season on the gridiron during the fall of 1925, but a poor one in the classroom. His grades are all below par.

As a condition of allowing him to remain in the university the faculty asked him to sign an agreement not to play football in 1926. He agreed and signed his football death warrant.

Then in the spring he began to study and accumulated grades above the average of those of his classmates. He did the same in summer school and not only did he meet the conference standard of eligibility, but he was higher than the university's requirement, which is stricter than that of the Big Ten.

New Purple backers are waiting to see what the faculty will do. Captain "Moon" Baker removed scholastic conditions by summer school work. Both Lewis and Baker are necessities if Northwestern is to be a contender in the conference race.

At the University of Minnesota Herb Joesting and Shorty Alquist, two other sterling finds of last season, must pass examinations before donning suits.

WISCONSIN PREPARING FOR PURDUE BATTLE

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17.—(UP)—"Forget about Michigan and Minnesota—we're getting ready for Purdue."

Coach George Little of Wisconsin University, reiterated that advice to the 66 football candidates whom he directed about Randall field yesterday, pointing them for their first encounter of the season.

Shifts and passes were stressed by Little and the six full teams are looking forward to actual scrimmage tomorrow.

Switching the players about frequently in lineups of these various teams, Little kept one practically intact. It included Crofoot, Bartlett, Kreuse and Barr in the backfield, Burrus and Cameron at ends, Staebel and Leitt at tackles, Kasiska and Von Bremer at guards and Wilke at center.

CARDINALS AND THE REDS TIED FOR LEAD

NINE GAMES TO GO FOR 2 CONTENDERS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

CARDINALS DEFEATED PHILLIES TWICE IN YESTERDAY'S GAMES

New York, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Nine games to go and the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds were tied for first place again in the National League pennant fight today. The Cardinals, half a game behind the Reds yesterday, evened the race by defeating the Phillies twice while the Reds won one game from the New York Giants.

The Philadelphia game made a horrifying baseball spectacle. The Cardinals gathered 41 hits and 33 runs in the two games. Weak as the Phillies are, the games were no index of the Cardinals' strength, although it takes a fairly strong team to commit such mayhem even on the Phillies.

The Reds played championship ball in shutting out the troublesome Giants.

The Reds meet the Giants again today and the Cardinals play the Phillies. Of the two the Cardinals

2 DIED, 2 HURT IN ACCIDENTS OF DUCK HUNTING

Two died and two others were wounded in accidents marking the opening of the duck hunting season in Minnesota. Peter Ewert, 19, Kasota, dropped a loaded shotgun and the resulting discharge struck him in the face and killed him. Rev. M. L. Gunderson, 27, Mora, was drowned when a row-boat struck a snag and overturned in Rice Lake. Dr. T. S. Paulson, Fergus Falls, one of a hunting party in the vicinity of Elbow Lake, was wounded in the neck by a charge of shot, said to have been fired deliberately by one of another party. Harold Tieden, Dodge Center, was seriously wounded in the leg by the accidental discharge of a gun.

HUNTERS GET GOOD BAGS ON FIRST DAY OUT

IDEAL DAY OPENED THE SEASON ON THURSDAY, SEPT. 16

EXPERIENCES RECORDED BY SOME OF THE ENTHUSIASTIC NIMRODS

Today is the second day of the duck hunting season and hunters are again flocking to the passes, marshes and lakes in the hopes of another good day's hunting.

For yesterday was really a good hunting day, as Carl Wright explained it, "It was ideal. The weather could not have been any more perfect nor the hunting better."

The majority of duck hunters out yesterday reported a favorable day and many brought in their limit bag of 12 water fowl.

A. A. Weaver and Clarence Smiley hunted at Red Sand Lake and Gull River and had successful shooting.

Joe Cibazar and W. R. Hiller hunted at Red Sand Lake and in spite of the fact that Hiller was shooting a new gun, he had a very successful day.

"We had one of the best shoots of our lives at Red Sand Lake," said Carl Wright who hunted at that lake with W. B. Cook, of Crosby. "The shooting lasted until nearly noon and we brought in a good bag in spite of the fact that we were unable to see the ducks, they being so close to us."

Several other parties also hunted at Red Sand Lake, while Whipple, White Sand and surrounding lakes had their quota of hopeful hunters.

A large number of ducks were killed in the neighborhood of Brainerd. Harold Kalland, considered by many the best shot in the city, was out yesterday and undoubtedly returned with the limit.

Bill Cleary, George Trent, Sr., Remington professional, George Trent, Jr., former Dapont pro., Dr. J. L. Frederick hunted at Platte Lake with success.

Ralph Long followed his custom for many years, shooting at Molly pass and as usual had no difficulty in getting the limit.

Bert Orne, Dr. B. Norquist and W. S. Orne spent a successful day at Leech Lake.

Edward Lake was reported to be not so good for hunting but a few birds were shot at Molly pass by enthusiastic hunters.

Lester Boyd and Fred Gruenhagen hunted at North Long Lake, Ed Hendrickson and Herb Cameron at Tamarack Lake, Sam Bloomstrom and Elmer Erickson at Whipple Lake.

L. F. Hohman, Art White and Ira White were among the successful hunters at Johnson's gardens, as also were Tom Templeton and John Templeton.

JACK DEMPSEY GIVEN ONCE OVER BY HANK FARRELL

SAYS HE LOOKS AS GOOD AS HE DID IN THE OLD DAYS

WHEN HE WAS GETTING READY FOR CARPENTIER, GIBBONS, FIRPO

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 17.—Jack Dempsey, preparing for the defense of his heavyweight championship against Gene Tunney in Philadelphia next Thursday night, looks just as good as he did when he was getting ready for Carpentier, Gibbons and Firpo.

He has the same speed, punch and disposition to fight. His workouts have been criticized by experts for lacking class and it is a well known cinch that he is open to right hand punches as he always has been.

Much was made of the fact that Dempsey had blood drawn from his nose when he was hit by Tommy Loughran and Martin Burke. It is not unusual for a fighter to get a little crimson on him even in a gymnasium but it is not recalled that Dempsey ever bled in any fight excepting in that one against Bill Brennan when he almost lost an ear.

So far in his workouts Dempsey certainly has shown that there is nothing wrong with his trick nose. He is sensitive about the charge that he had the beak altered to make himself good looking.

"I did it so I could breathe," he said, and he does not puff and pant like he used to when he was training.

Dempsey does not look like a great champion in his workouts against Tommy Loughran, but Loughran is an exceptional sparring partner, one of the best light heavyweights in the ring.

"I've never felt Dempsey punching harder," Martin Burke, another partner said. "I've boxed Tunney twice and I can't see where he has a chance to go more than three rounds."

It is difficult to rate Dempsey by his workouts. He looked terrible until about three days before the Gibbons fight and almost as bad when he was training for Firpo, but he was ready when he stepped into the ring. He trained very little for his second fight with Brennan and it took him 12 rounds to win the fight.

FOOTBALL SEASON AT BRAINERD IS HIGHLY PROMISING

20 TO 30 MEN ANSWER THE CALL OF COACH BERESFORD

SCHEDULE OF SIX GAMES OPENS AT MILACA ON SEPTEMBER 15

The football season in high school circles is starting out with a bang this year, some twenty to thirty men having answered Coach Beresford's call for candidates. A formidable schedule has been arranged and the opening game with Milaca at Milaca, Sept. 25, should end in a victory for the local gridlers who have been practicing every night and conditioning themselves generally.

The schedule which has been arranged calls for games with: Milaca at Milaca—Sept. 25. Staples at Staples—Oct. 2. Aitkin at Aitkin—Oct. 9. Crosby at Brainerd—Oct. 16. Aitkin at Brainerd—Oct. 23. Little Falls at Little Falls—Oct. 29.

About six of last year's men are available for this year's team and include Russell Putz, captain and fullback; Herman Buscher, quarterback; Lester Kruger, in the line. Among the new candidates are Frank Wise, quarterback; John Fisher, Wentworth Hayes, Verne McNamara, seeking backfield positions, and Tom Brown, John Ellison, Charles Welliver, George Fuller, Henry Hanson, Wendell Barnes, Walter Hautala and several others for line positions.

William Fitzharris, William Lowe and Earl DeRocher, stars of previous years, are back to regain positions and besides proving competition for the new men, will benefit this year's team by their former playing experience.

Brainerd has a chance this year to put out a winning team providing ineligibility does not take its toll.

KEARNS MAY OCCUPY TUNNEY'S CORNER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 17.—When Jack Dempsey walks in the ring in Philadelphia on the night of Sept. 23 to defend his heavyweight championship against Gene Tunney he may find in the other corner, back of his opponent, Jack Kearns.

Billy Gibson, manager of the marine challenger, hasn't announced his staff of seconds and Kearns hasn't said anything more definite than: "I'll be at the fight, you can bet that."

For other than the demoralizing effect that the presence of his former manager in his opponent's corner might have on Dempsey, Kearns would be a handy man to have around and in times of stress good seconds are needed almost as much for Gibson as for his fighter.

Never will those forget, who saw it, the face of Mr. William Gibson one night in old Madison Square Garden when Richie Mitchell clipped Benny Leonard on the chin and flopped him for the count of nine. Gibson's face turned almost green, his eyes popped and his mouth made all the motions of talking but not a word came out.

It was Leonard who kept his head and motioned to the panic stricken Gibson that he was not in danger. Leonard was fully recovered in a few moments but Gibson didn't get over it for a month.

It was Leonard also who shouted to his manager to keep quiet when he was being beaten all over the ring by Lew Tendler in their first fight. Leonard, it will be recalled, was in very bad shape but he kidded Tendler out of what was a great chance to win by a knockout. Leonard probably will be one of the seconds in Tunney's corner.

Kearns isn't the great second that he thinks he is but when he hasn't a million dollar fighter of his own to take care of he may not become so excited.

Kearns, in his memoirs, says that his quick thinking saved Dempsey between the first and second rounds of his memorable fight with Luis Firpo. Kearns says that Dempsey was out on his feet and flopped so heavily on the stool in the corner that he knocked the bottle of smelling salts out of his manager's hand. The bottle smashed on the floor but Kearns thought quickly, reached down and dipped the sponge in the ammonia and held it under Dempsey's nose and his head cleared.

If memory serves correct, and the pictures proved it, Kearns did nothing of the kind. The bottle didn't fall to the floor and break. It remained all during the intermission in his hands and the only nose under which it was applied was Mr. Kearns' nose!

It is doubtful what effect the presence of Kearns in the opposite corner would have on Dempsey. It certainly wouldn't surprise him. In fact he would be surprised if he didn't find his former manager telling him how to beat the champion.

Jim Jeffries was terribly disturbed when he saw Billy Delaney, his former manager, behind Jack Johnson but Jeffries was in such a state of nerves that the slightest annoyance would have upset him. Dempsey isn't of that temperament. Instead of bothering him it might arouse him to a fury.

His feelings, although he is very sensitive about some things, aren't easily hurt. He was worked into a frenzy when the crowd razed him before the Carpentier fight and he could have murdered anyone within reach when Tom Gibbons kept him waiting twenty minutes in the corner in Shelby.

Last year ineligibility proved the most disastrous factor in Brainerd's downfall. Parents and others are asked to co-operate and encourage the students to keep up in their studies and thereby help Brainerd to put forth a champion football as well as basketball and baseball teams.
